Purpose

Tower presents our University, - - - history 1959. Our arrow, the symbol of faculty and scholastic accomplishment, centers itself in the present, reaches from the past, and points to the future. It is your guide, now presenting before you candid fragments of student life on campus. It points out those governing the University, its activities as well as its administration. It honors those who graduate. Follow it as it arches its way through two semesters - - - our pageant of a University.

The Briggs Building, in addition to releasing valuable classroom space, has also been able to furnish the faculty with adequate office space. Shown here is the third floor which contains the offices of the philosophy and psychology departments. This picture, snapped at 9:40 p.m., sees the hall unoccupied, devoid of the gluts of students who, in twelve hours will transform this tranquil corridor into a pushing alley of young men and women going for coffee or Kafka.

Expansion wielding force in poured concrete. Slender, stretching its length in the milieu of progress and backed by the gray of first foundings, another link is snapped onto the chain of extending buildings harboring grains of intellectual creativity. Here issues are decided. Men and women build what cannot be destroyed, knowledge in the arts which bring taut loose strands of confused bits of learning. A building rises with shadows forming outlines of future structures.

Solving Class Schedules

Registration week drew nearly thirteen thousand students who applied for courses in the coming semester. The massive Memorial Building bulged with lines and lines of the new student body, haggling and plotting a mapped out curricula. Ideal schedules and desired courses conflicted. The lines increased in proportion as the open hours diminished. Confusion and pandemonium threatened to subvert any efforts of organization. Microphones blared. The patience of the registration crew wore thin, the students thinner. Finally, each student crept through the bursar's line and squeezed out the door with a dull impression of forms, sheets, lines and bills.

"Can I take English 55 and History simultaneously?"

"Now that I've arranged my schedule and filled my cards, why do I have to get instructions?"

Semester schedules have to be titled properly and arranged in alphabetical order.

Abundant religion courses left plenty leeway to rearrange prearranged class hours.

Here you plan, ask,

Arrange, write, pay,

Spend hours in lines

You know summer is over when you list the prices of books needed for the coming term.

Identification cards take form soon after picture shots.

Students Select New Officers in Election

Student officers play a tremendous role in the governing of a University. These bodies link relations between students and administration. They translate University policies, represent student viewpoints. Thus it is that the students themselves elect the officers of these organizations. The fellows elect the Student Union board representatives, while the coeds select fine officers for the Woman's League. Both vote for the officers of the Student Council.

Coed votes elected both Woman's League officials as well as fine officers for the Student Council.

Placards, posters, and streamers littered the campus and vicinity with advertising gimmicks before elections.

Final tabulations announced Mike McCann, Janyce Byrne, and Jim Williams Council, League, and Union Presidents.

Seminar--

Morning registration precluded the official proceedings.

Rose MacPherson summarizes the findings of the workshop.

On October 11, the Student Council sponsored the annual Student Seminar. Two representatives from each of the campus' organizations met to discuss and evaluate the role played by each at the University. The seminar featured a fresh approach to student problems and stressed action in bringing their resolutions to the attention of the administration. Instead of the customary panel system, various workshops were set up which considered such current problems as: the future of the Spring Carnival, the parking situation, the function and value of fraternities and sororities. The seminar was open to the entire campus and invited any trade of ideas.

The culminating event of a year's intensive training for ROTC cadets is Field Day. This was the day of the annual triangular ROTC meet between the University of Detroit Army and Air Force and Wayne State Air Force. Before an audience of parents, fellow students, ROTC corps, and judges, the top divisional units of all the schools presented drilled in the most impressive military fashion. At the end of the day the judges announced the separate trophy winners as well as the best corps of the day pointwise.

MOOT COURT MEETS AT U D LAW SCHOOL

The Case of the People vs . . .

The Party of the First Part . . .

Moot Court is a practice trial conducted by the law school, designed to give the students a chance to operate in a courtroom atmosphere. That this procedure is successful is attested to by the high percentage of the school's students who pass the bar exams. The judge, jury, and lawyers make this a realistic presentation.

A sharp-eyed "lawyer" watches the legal manipulations.

Art of Teaching

Face to face with actual Problems in the high school, Practice in the classroom

Practice teaching brings you to the reality in a classroom. Nebulously theoretical calculations fade in face of an every day classroom. The matter has to be taught with whatever method that will teach it. Discipline has to be maintained. Quotients and percentiles become more vague as you plan and work to a routine spelled out from hours to units, grading periods to final examinations. You teach and learn. It's pupil versus teacher.

When that final bell rings, you suddenly find yourself in front of the room teaching on your own.

Pat Sehee does her practice teaching at Mumford this semester.

When you do something wrong, your critic teacher is ready to lend some advice.

Concert in Words and Music

"Words and Music" captions this University of Detroit Music series, sponsored by the Student Council, musicians from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra are the guest performers. These musicians are among the finest in the country, and occupy its first chair of their respective section of the orchestra.

In keeping with the title "Words and Music" comments are made on the pieces played, by one of the musicians.

The concert is held informally in the round. The audience is free to mingle with the musicians and discuss the music during intermission.

These concerts help complete a University's need to foster cultural activities for the enjoyment of its students. The series, open to the public, helps establish the University of Detroit as a center of culture in the city itself.

The Woodwind quintet presented selections by Laudenslayer, Rohe, Barber, Agay, Villa Lobos, and Hindemith.

The audience found the informal comments revealing a new view on the campus.

Arno Mariotti at oboe, together with A. Lipton, P. Schaller, C. Sirord, and W. Sabotini, comprised the quintet.

Aeronautical Engineering

Wind Tunnels and Labs Develop Aeronautics

Aeronautical Engineering recognizes the importance of theory as well as the need of Laboratory experimentation. Courses range from aerodynamics, fluid mechanics, structures, and thermodynamics based on two years of engineering science. Aeronautics now is reaching into new fields. The need for so many advanced courses has necessitated a curriculum change for incoming aeronautical engineers.

CAPPING DAY

Dental hygenists

Have their day, too

The dental hygienist's proudest mark in addition to her fine service is her white cap. The plain white cap signifies a freshman, a U of D red-white stripe points out a sophomore and a violet stripe on a cap designates a graduate. Dean Rochon and the dental school are quite proud of each year's graduating young women who will serve as the dentist's indispensable aids.

A successful freshman receives her congratulatory rose.

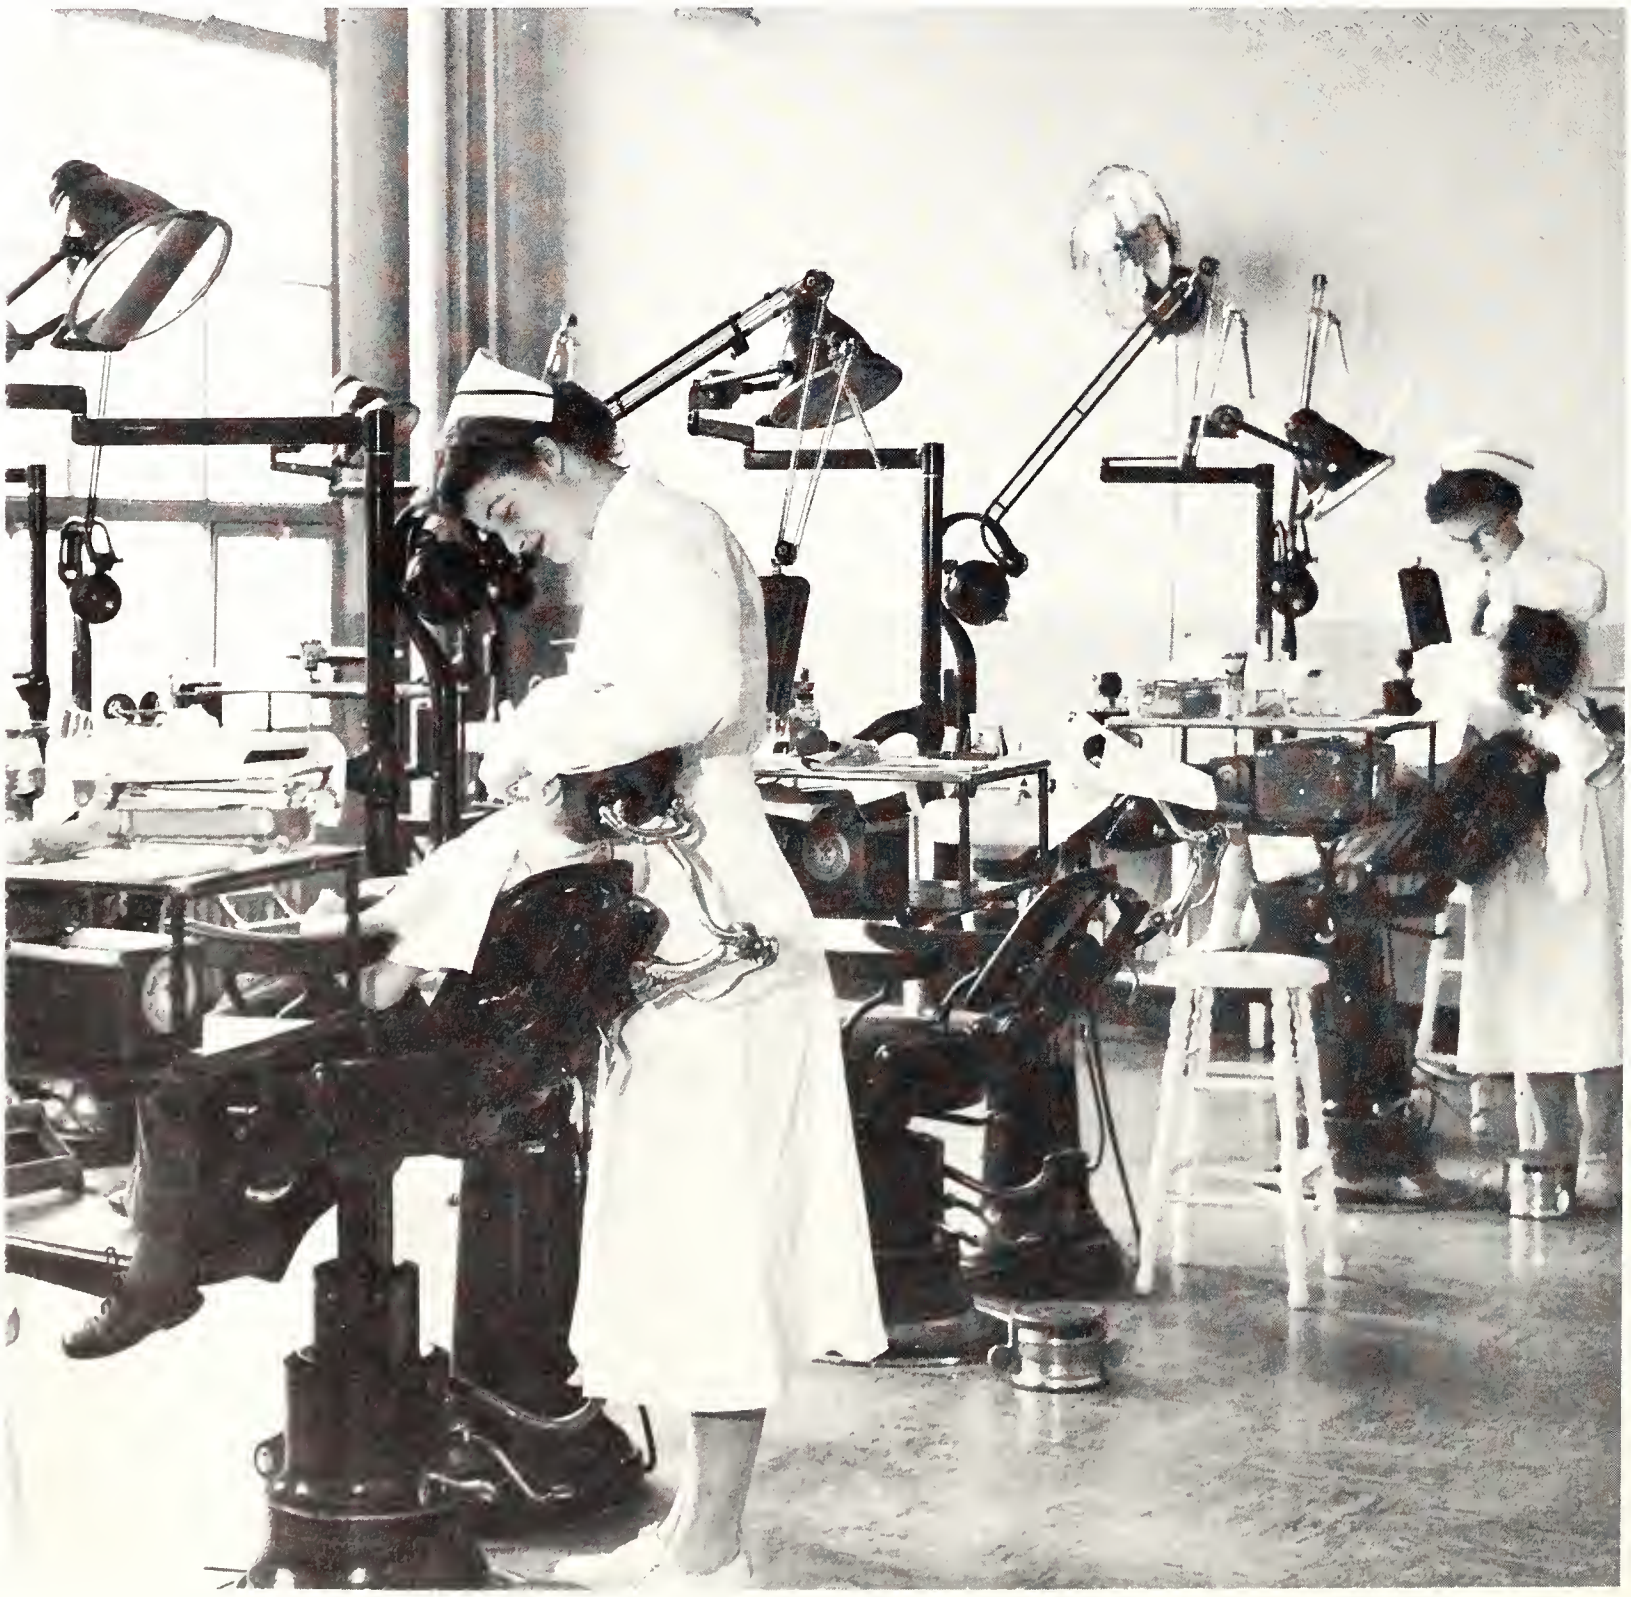
School of Dentistry

Extensive curriculum produces Dentists and hygienists

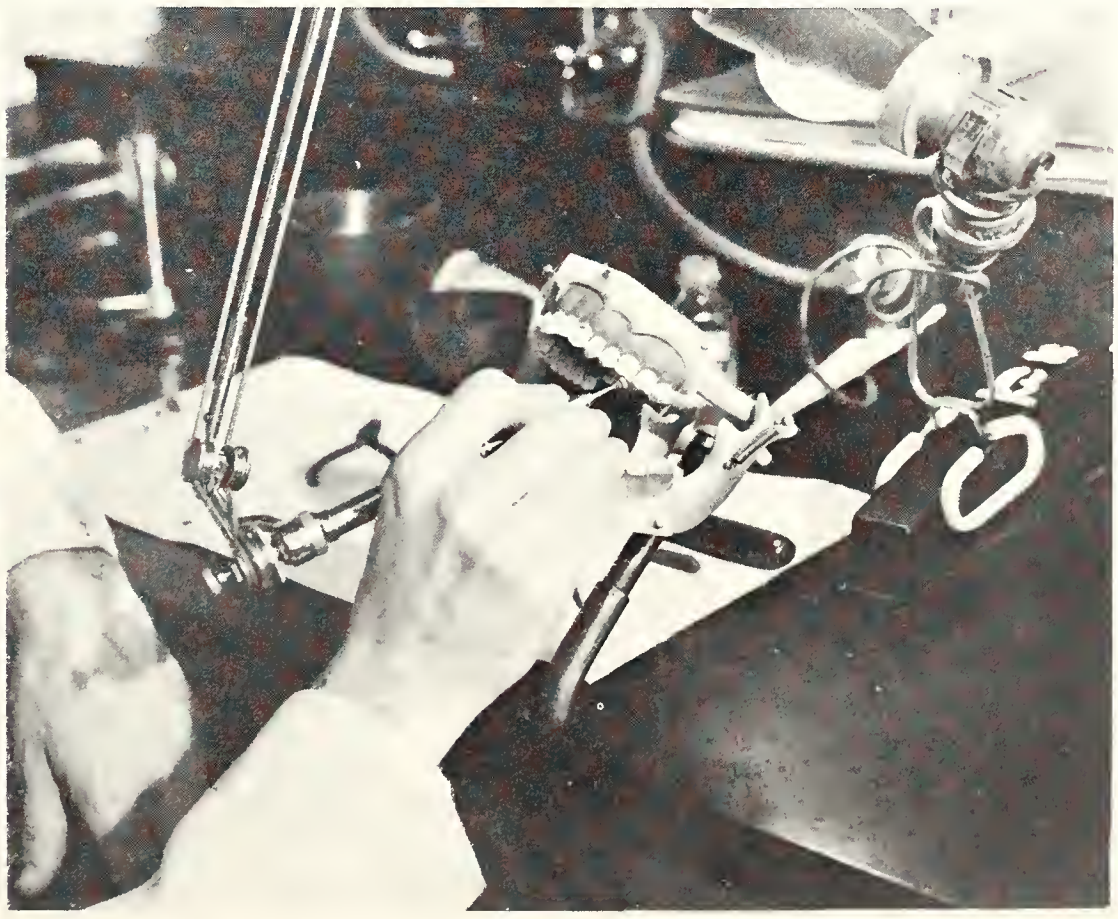
It takes eight years to become a dentist. Four years are spent in pre-dent school; four more in the school of dentistry. Future dentists have to face a curriculum of the basic sciences concentrating on dentistry. In his third year he takes courses in operative dentistry, working on actual patients in the school clinic.

In the children's clinic dental hygienists learn to check teeth and to handle little children.



After two years of classroom theory future dentists move into the operative lab curriculum for two years.

Each student must be capable of setting dentures on his own.



The Friends Meet, Speak And Aid Us

The Friends of the Library has as its goal the enriching of the university and community intellectual and cultural life. Toward this end, the library has sponsored nationally known speakers and authors for lectures, and individual members have unselfishly donated volumes far beyond the library's budget. The range of lectures has considered such disparate subjects as Professor G. B. Harrison's "Shakespear Series" to J. F. Powers' reading of one of his short stories; from Minoru Yamasaki's "Delight in Architecture" to the organization's initial address given by Mr. Charles Feinberg, "Walt Whitman's America."

A generous benefactor, Mr. Feinberg, displayed this art.

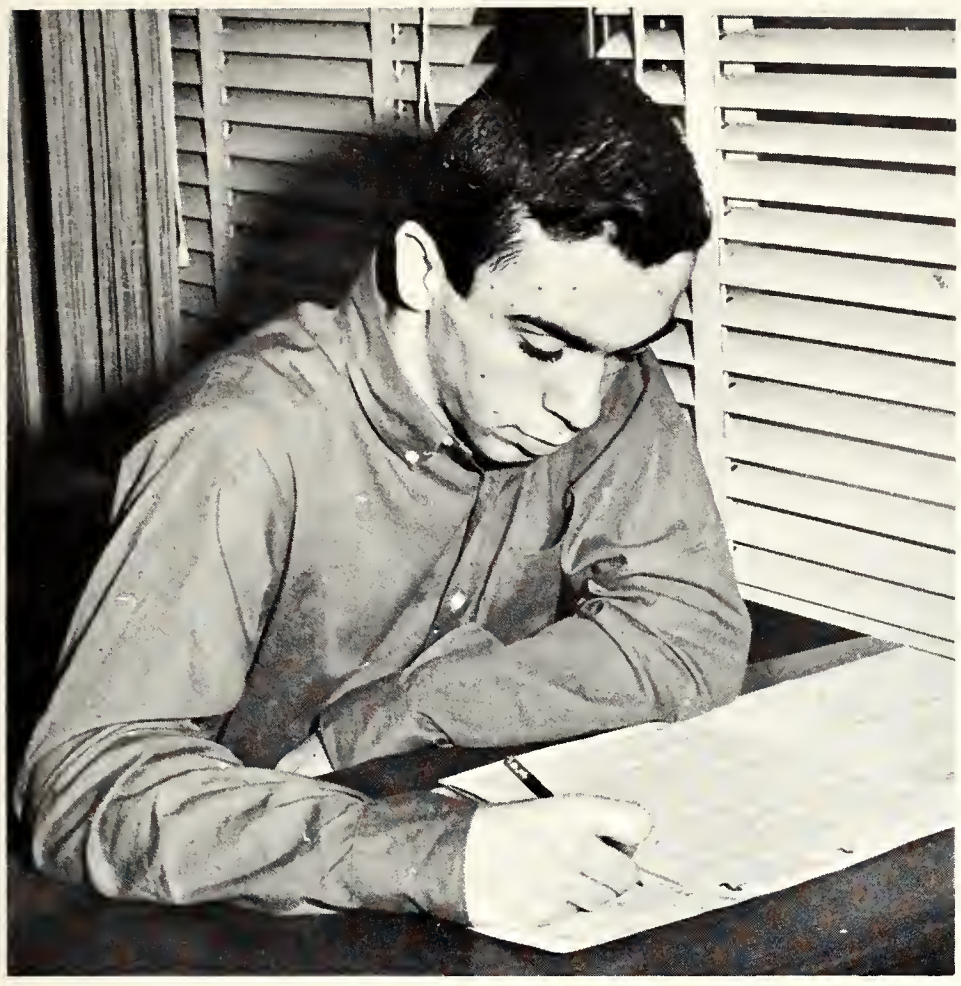
Psychology In Action

The Psychological Services Building

One of the counselors discusses a student's scores.

Because students live in a world of ideas, a world of mental activity, a world of study and memory, the exhaustive testing services offered by the Psychological Services Center pinpoint, to a great degree, his aptitudes and interest. This testing will help him "zero in" on the area of study to which he is best suited.

Fr. Lionel V. Carron, S.J., Counselor, and Mrs. Stark confer on some administrative problems.



BOY:MAN is the same as . . . ? He has several choices.

Dentist or Engineer? This test will help decide.

Gloria Redin, secretary and receptionist, checks some vocational test scores at the center.

The rib cage and the intestines of the Arts Building squat in ugliness until its completion in autumn.

Weeks before it was mortar and lumber; now it is an Arts Building, greater than the sum of its parts.

A Dedication

An invocation to God Sanctifies the result Of man's imagination

It is ironic commentary on the times that a Jesuit institution emphasizing as it does in the Arts, has just last year completed an Arts Building. The following few pages are a picture profile of the Briggs Building, so named in appreciation of the financial support given by the Walter O. Briggs family. See it in some of its aspects, its construction, its completion, its vitality, its tranquility.

Bishop A. M. Zaleski, his aide, Frs. Foley and Britt, S. J., invoke divine blessings for the building's dedication.

The Reverend C. J. Steiner, S. J., president, behind a facade of cadets and singers, asks God's blessing.

Language Taught by Earphone

Audio-visual lab in Briggs Building seeks Scienific approach

Dr. Janisse and Dr. Espinosa of the language department frequently hold their classes in the lab.

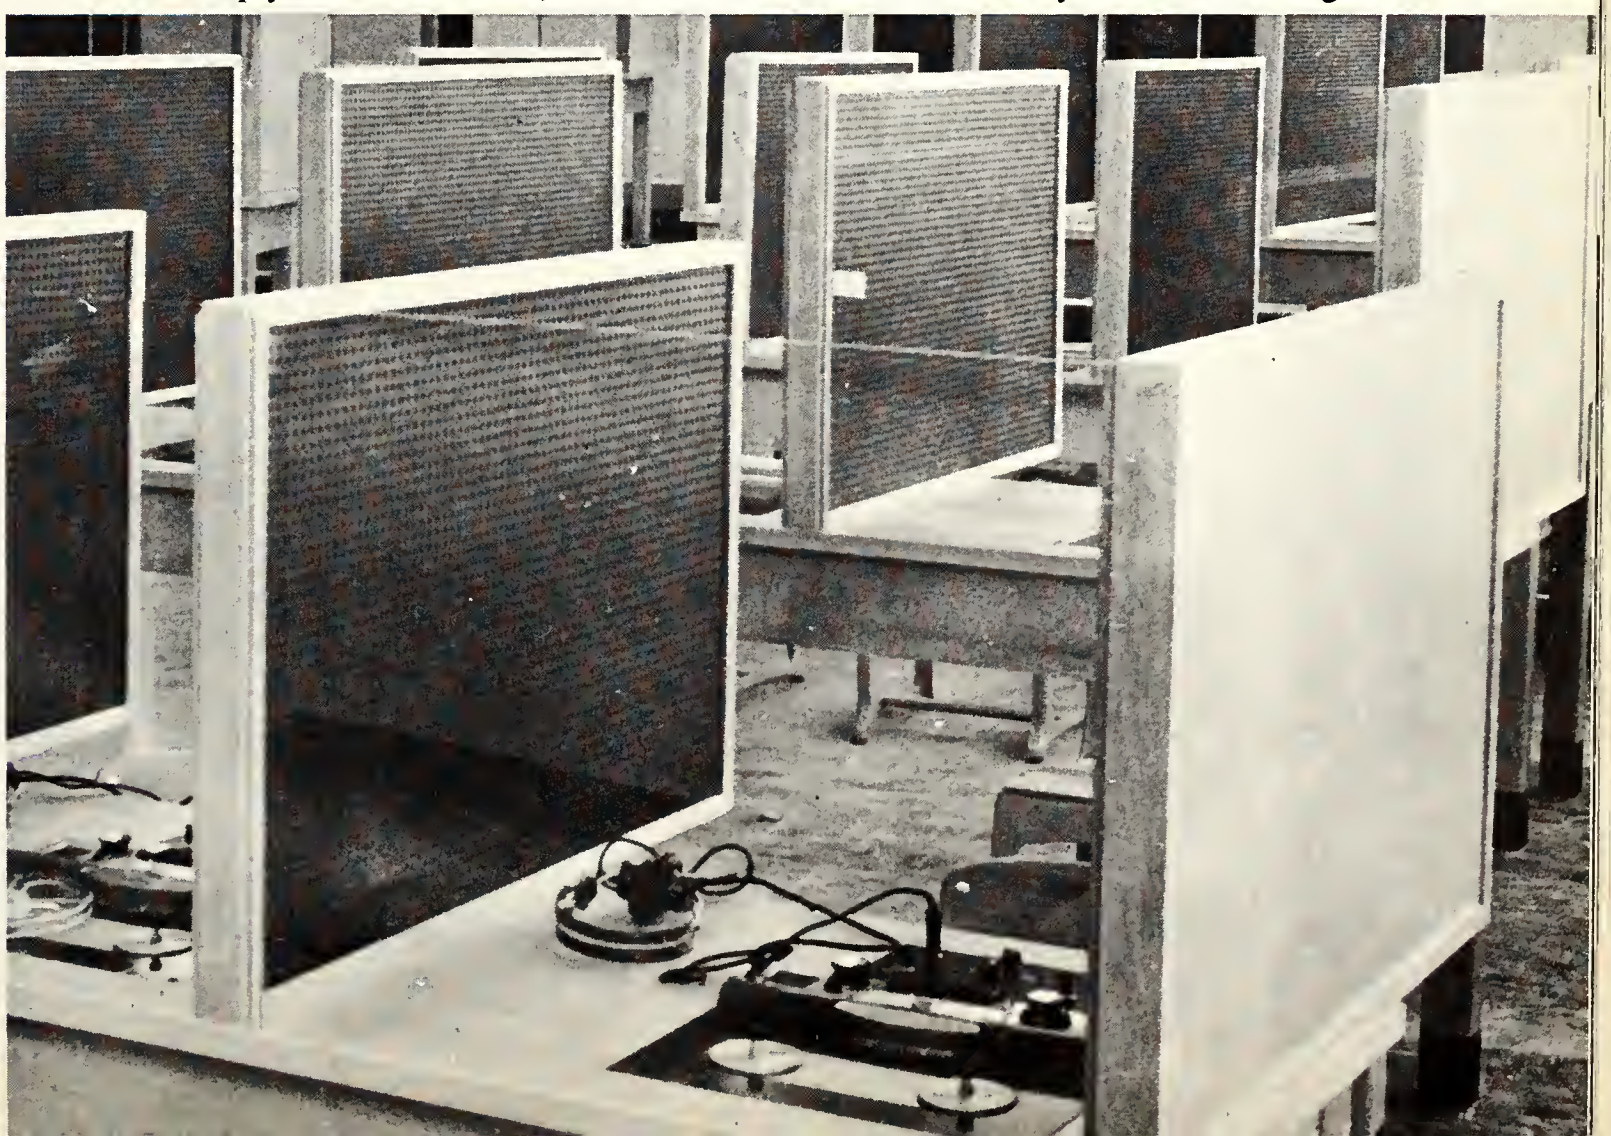
Rapid progress has been achieved in recent years in audio-visual methods of education. The new laboratory in the Briggs Building keeps the language department of the University in step with these methods. The main aim of the language lab is to give the students, by means of these recently developed audio-visual instruments, an actual experience or contact with a foreign language. Putting one face to face with the actual expressions, pronunciations, and idioms of a foreign language makes the text books and grammars more meaningful. In this way the language is drilled more thoroughly by actual practice. This brings out a fuller realization of the language.

From his booth the professor can tune in the student he wishes to hear.

A tape can record a student's speech progress.

These controls afford professorial eavesdropping.

Empty for the moment, the lab booths resemble an array of U.N. buildings.



The Briggs Building Bookstore serves students and faculty with books ranging from Waugh to Aquinas.

The Basement — — Students Browse, A Machine Totals

The Briggs Building, with its spacious basement, has released a good deal of space which in the past has been at a premium on campus. The New Book Store is a much needed improvement over the cramped quarters in the old Chemistry Building.

Streaky blotches spread upon film tell in a word our Homecoming. Rain. Relentless rain, disrespectfully cold. It swept and splashed onto the floats and tore them with the wind. It scuttled mythological gods and goddesses. It jested with the bands, and mocked our queens. It drove across the slickened streets, and dripped from umbrellas onto wet, shiny, chilled faces. Yet these faces stayed, steady, shivering staid to the grounds of the oncoming parade.

What? Why?

How?

When? Where?

The assembly exhibits a gamut of expressions as Tom Emmet delivers his address.

Freshmen Orientation

The second annual Freshmen Orientation Week began Monday, September 8, with a welcome speech by the Very Rev. C. J. Steiner, S.J., President. Following this, upper classmen gave lectures on all topics concerning student regulations. By early afternoon the freshmen were conducted on a campus tour. The day's activities extended far into the evening as the new students were introduced to college social life and its problems by an all-girl panel in the Student Union ballroom.

MONDAY

A selected panel spoke to the freshmen on the problems regarding scholastic and social life.

Limiting elbow spaces makes new friends.

TUESDAY

High school fresh collegiates caught first-hand glimpses of campus organizations as fraternities and sororities conducted an open house in the Student Union. Organization banners, emblems, and displays categorized the associations. Personal representatives from each group related and explained their purpose and activities on campus. In this manner of straightforwardness, a new corps of interest germinated within the recruits, and encouraged them to associate themselves with one or the other facet of participation in an active, well-rounded cycle of University life.

Dancers, pianists, impressionists, singers, and musicians headed a ten act panorama of freshman talent. Contest judges were the Very Rev. Prize awards went to Ricky Litt and his trio, accordionist Carole Kowalczyk, and the Jon Schmidt Combo. Between acts newcomers toured U of D land with "Around the Campus in Eighty Minutes". Afterwards Nick Schneider and his band provided dance music.

Roller Skating Proves Popular

THURSDAY

This year the traditional Freshmen Welcome Picnic was replaced by a roller skating party held at the Hippodrome Roller Rink. A quick look at the faces showed everyone seemed to like the idea. There were plenty of thrills and spills for everyone. Many found standing on skates harder than it looks and went home with skinned knees to prove it. For the more expert, there were races and dances on wheels, and, of course, a grand march. Thanks for sponsoring the innovation went to Delta Zeta sorority and Tuyere fraternity.

Now we're getting better. Everyone's on his feet.

On your mark, get set, go. Come on, girls, skate!

Sodality Sponsors Frosh Mixer

Five days of hectic pre-school activity gave incoming freshmen some idea of campus life in its various aspects. The Freshmen Frolic sponsored by the Sodality culminated the week's agenda on Friday night. Beany-capped freshmen were welcomed in the Student Union ballroom for a night's activities on the dance floor. Classes opened the following Monday. Now was the opportunity to meet fellow classmates before they would be unrecognizable behind their stacks of books and papers.

FRIDAY

Freshman Welcome Dance

What better way is there to introduce the new freshmen to the school year than to honor them with a dance. There the prospective newcomers have a chance to meet people who will be their classmates in the coming years. Now is the time to become acquainted and make yourself known to them.

The crowded arena showed an increase of new faces.

This seems a very nice way to get acquainted.

Community singing was a feature at the Frolic.

The tables were empty, but the floor crowded.

The heroes of the day were the football players. Then at the height of what might or promised to be a successful season, they were introduced at the Football Frolic. The team arrived late of course, since they had to handle some business at the University of Detroit stadium.

Greek Olympics

Coeds and Frats display toga form and athletic prowess at ancient games

Fraternities and sororities accepted invitations to the interfraternity competition games held on campus this year. Events scheduled in the games pitted sorority against fraternity in the hula hooping and tug of war categories. Chemise races were also added to the women's division. The traditional chariot race followed a new track especially laid out for the event. Afterwards winners proudly displayed their enormous hero badges for public acclaim and approval.

Agility often tripped a would-be victor.

The hula-hoopateers caught many glances.

6th Annual Migration

Wow! If you missed the Sixth Annual Titan Football Migration you missed the time of your life. This year's trip was the trip to end all trips. It all began with the sleepless festive night on the train, which led to the lung bursting cheers at the game, followed by the traffic stopping pep rally after the game in downtown Cincinnati. Excitement ran high from the time the train left Detroit until it limped back with a grunt and groan from the load it was carrying (a victorious but sleepy Titan following).

The beginning of a fun filled weekend in Cincinnati.

Who wants to sleep when you're having fun?

Oh good grief! You've got gin and don't know it.

Cincinnati

As the train pulled into the station at Cincinnati the first leg of the trip was over. From here the migration made its way to the hotel and after a rest proceeded to the game. The game was packed with the excitement of adding two more trophies to U of D's collection (Xavier's pennant and water bucket).

U of D's most loyal fan was there.

That kills two birds with one stone. A T.D. and their water bucket.

Hosts Titans

U of D coeds have the spirit that was typical of U of D.

Even trade, your pennant for ours.

After raising U of D's colors and winning the game, the next stop was downtown for a pep rally to show the team and town who U of D was and how much they liked to win. By Sunday morning everyone was ready for a peaceful ride back to Detroit. Peaceful, with the exception of the last car which contained 30 Titans who sang all the way home.

The end of an unforgettable weekend.

Attractive Sharon Moreau with beaming escorts launch an extensive campaign on voting day.

A lively spirit of enthusiasm sparked by placards, posters, and pictures inspired twenty-four organizations to sponsor their favorites for Homecoming queen. Each hoped that the personalities of their candidate would be aided by an imaginative advertising campaign. A cotillion of regal hopefuls on voting day intended to secure student opinion to their side. Student tallies thinned the select group to ten, five of whom would be the court, one of whom, the queen.

Scholastic Opinion Expressed

By Heavy Vote Representation

At Annual Homecoming Polls

The shouting of the parade and campaign end. Students can finally give an outlet to their opinion of who should be in the Homecoming court. A line forms in the voting booths in the Student Union. The ballots are cast. Soon the accurate tabulation of the balloting will thin the Homecoming hopefuls down to ten. Twenty-four have vied, ten remain.

Every tally is duly registered, compiled, and placed on a final tabulation sheet.

The weekend fuss and honors . . .

"When my kids go to U of D, I'll never do this again."

The myth theme did have a few anachronisms.

The din of the parade, the warming glare of bonfire, magnified with blurring effect by the sleeting rain, the cheering throngs at the grid contest, the graceful regality of the queen and her court, orchestral melodies pervading the mythological atmosphere—all are impressions, silvery and warm, of this year's Homecoming. The value of planning and work, coupled with spirited enthusiasm, proved to be most potent and profitable as this year Homecoming Week won the claim of being the most successful in the history of the University. The mood of myths, magic, and moonlight refused to be moulded by the damp, cold climate. The fusion of the spirit of the organizers combined with the enthusiasm of the participating student body produced an unforgettable pageant which, in effect, smoothed the welcome doormat to the alumni.

Half Time's

Presenting our Queen, lovely Betsy Boss.

After a night of gaiety and celebration, the thronging student body and alumni poured into U of D stadium to cheer the Titans who played host to the Sundevils of Arizona State. These football gallants were candidly entertained at the half-time intermission by a review of floats, flashy cars chauffering the Homecoming Queen and her court, the military escort, and the exciting coronation ceremonies. Excitement, reddening faces and hoarsing throats peppered half-time festivities with the seasoning of spirited entertainment.

Guest performers draw dancers about the bandstand.

In no way dejected by the Titans' defeat earlier in the day, a crowd of over two thousand milled into U of D's Memorial Building to climax the Homecoming celebration. Myths, magic, and moonlight! Blue spectra darted the ceiling while a large silver moon cast moody shadows upon the dancers. Fred Netting provided the music. Guest performers gapped the interludes of intermissions. Frankie Castro, the Carl Steiger trio, and the Honeybees made weary, weary dancers forget the crowded floor and the bumping that goes with it. At the end of the night the Homecoming queen and her court officially closed their reign.

Autumn Time at the Scalpel Ball

The Student Union changed its appearance in the fall atmosphere of crisp autumnal decorations. Corn stalks and pumpkins gave the dance floor a warm atmosphere conducive to blend with dreamy music drifting across yellow corn husks and black-orange streamers. This Halloween theme caused students to pause and look from the work of the first weeks of school.

This is the time to leave books aside, and relax.

Informal attire is best suited if you care to shuffle over loose leaves and brush against dry corn stalks.

Roaring twenties weekend

Derby hats and handle bar moustaches twitching at flapper girls in coon coats U of D's dipping back to the roaring twenties when it honored the undefeated Titan eleven of 1928. Dress Style and mannerisms of the twenties characterized the weekend. On Friday flappers and dates paraded about campus, and held a vaudeville show in the evening. On Saturday the remaining members of the '28 squad were honored at halftime. Another soiree after the game climaxed the activities.

With this honor came the distinction of being accorded the rank of honorary cadet colonel for the year. This entitled the sweethearts to appear at most ROTC unit functions during the coming year. Air Force court members included Carol Ann Hicke, Charlene Piana, Joyce Shaheen, and Carol Stepaniak. Among the Army court were Kathleen Kelly, Joan Sanak, and Sharon Williams.

It all begins in the summer, spouting ideas trying to be organized logically. Then school starts and the work is assigned from week to week. Staff members comprise three crews who divide their work into three stages. The photographers cover scheduled events, and develop pictures which go under the scrutiny of the editorial staff. The layout crew chooses their material and fits them in sequence on dummy pages. The copy writers then complete the pages with word descriptions. This is the book in its essence.

A stiffening of literary standards raised the quality of the University literary quarterly in the opinion of libraries, universities, colleges, and outstanding quarterlies across the nation. Better writing demanded better writers. Talent was drawn from professional as well as student writers. Controversies arose, but it did produce better student contributions.

Under editor Eisner Fresco became a leading national quarterly.

Proposed Productions Go before Board

L. to R., R. Black, R. McManus, J. Browne, W. Murphy, W. Bundy, R. Renaud, R. Mullanix discuss programming.

Robert McManus records, arranges, and assigns jobs to students.

What comes before the blinking red lights and the turning of the cameras upon a lighted set? Long before a show appears on the screen it is subject to the scrutiny and evaluation of the TV staff during production conferences and director meetings. Time calls for accurate scheduling. Proper facilities must be made available. Only when all the paper work has been approved can the production facilities manager arrange and assign his staff their proper duties.

Tom Dixon sets his studio enlarger into action.

Station and program identifications, slides, charts, and maps all play their small, yet important roles in programming. But before these graphics, in the form of either artwork or transparencies, can be telecast, they have to be made according to specifications. WTVS's special darkroom and art studios handle these processes according to the facilities requisition sent to them from the various directors and producers.

Cards, Idents, Graphics, Titles

WTVS art staff members Jo Ann Cross, Patti Cassell, and Julie Ehlendt do some art work in the studio.

Setting up Studio Backgrounds

Tom Stumpo, Jim Blacklaw, and Jim Morouse bring in a backdrop.

No program is presented in a bare studio. Flats are used to suggest an indented setting. Crew members bring backdrops from the prop room. They set lights which illuminate the talent from every possible angle. By key-lights, spotlights, backlights, and fill lights, the set is properly lighted to avoid excessive shadowing, distortions, and "hot spots." With these and other props the crew sets the scene.

Importance of Being Earnest

Victorian Era serves Wilde with farcical Plot of verbal wit

Wilde, verbal wit is utilized to mock Victorian ethical values as well as the polished formality of notables who hide behind a screen of "custom" and dodge the values they pretend to hold so high. Earnest is satire and humor spliced from scenes of the Victorian age of conventionality. The play on words and situations is an epic in high comedy.

The Cave Dwellers

A thousand scenes from Saroyan's wild, zany World

The Midwestern premiere of the Cave Dwellers catches Saroyan as he tangles with human relations, painting the problems of daily existence. The time is the present, the cave an abandoned theater. Its dwellers bring forth their personal defeats and hopes with a do-goodism type of morality. These refugees from the present form a cycle of vivid individuals who fight reality with memories of the past in the cave called world.

Richard Ramos: The cave king rules upon his cardboard throne.

Alice Broder: Neglected queen who only lives to live again her regal reign of a flickering fame now spent.

Michael Keenan brings his expectant wife and a performing bear into the Cave to add to the collection of refugees from reality.

Jim Savedes avoided temptations to clown.

This is our world, and here we choose to stay, battling those outside who try, but cannot understand.

A queen's outcry thunders through the cave.

Patti Cassell: Pledge expresses limited stage experience.

Fred Janci: The Duke recognizes ring defeats as the symbols of his failure to face the setbacks in life.

Moliere's School For Husbands

Two opposing theories of education are tested in this bright social critique of the mid-seventeenth century. The theory of "nothing to excess" opposes that of "everything to excess" in which everything is resolved for the nothing theorist.

Arthur Guiterman's adaptations of Moliere's verse has a background of music from old French songs and melodies arranged by E. W. Pickett. A ballet, added to the original play, sums up the theme and mood of the action.

Bernard Shaw interpretes Joan of Arc as being a true Protestant and Nationalist in her own right. The history of this political and ecclesiastical figure demanded a keen interpretive evaluation of subject and plot so as to render justice to both this saint and those who condemned her. Within the framework of justice towards this saint and soldier and her judges. Shaw casts the Maid in her true perspective, simple, confused, but strengthened in her faith. While doing this he still manages to sally against his own countrymen's weaknesses and still maintain the dignity of purpose in the play.

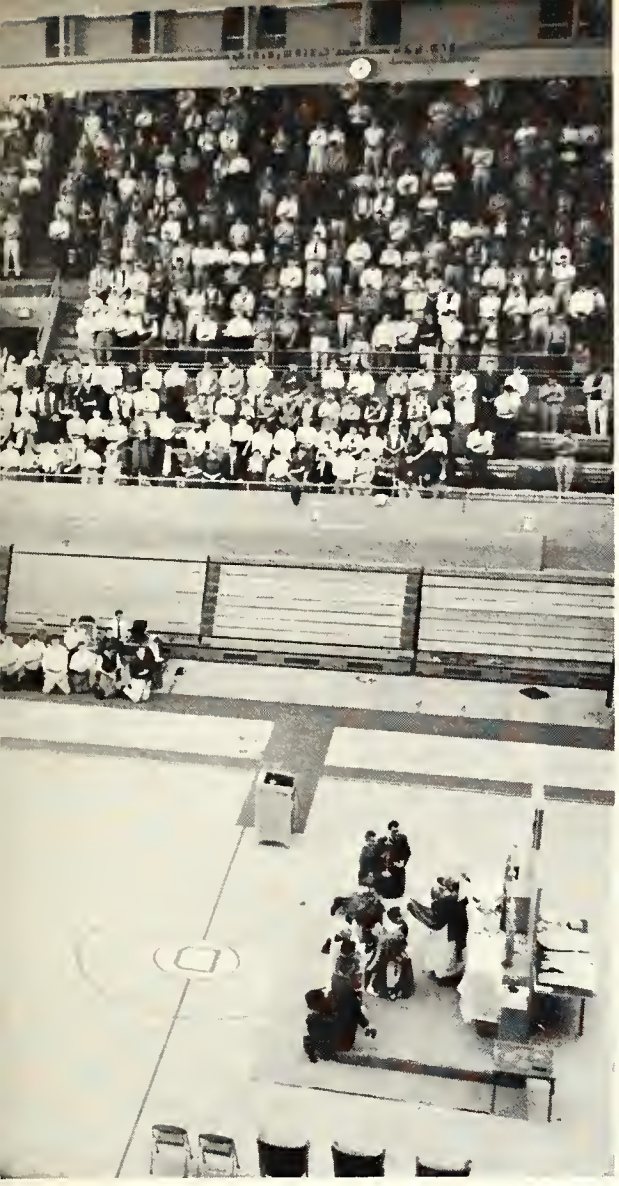
Last year's students knew it as a place to consult with their psychology, theology, and history instructors, as a place of bustle and crowded faculty offices. The 1959 student knows this area not as a place of consultation with professors, but as a chapel wherein to pause during a hectic day for prayer and petition. Where last year 150 students elbowed their way into the Chemistry Building's tiny chapel, the 1959 student worships along with 399 others.

Mass Begins School

Students seek

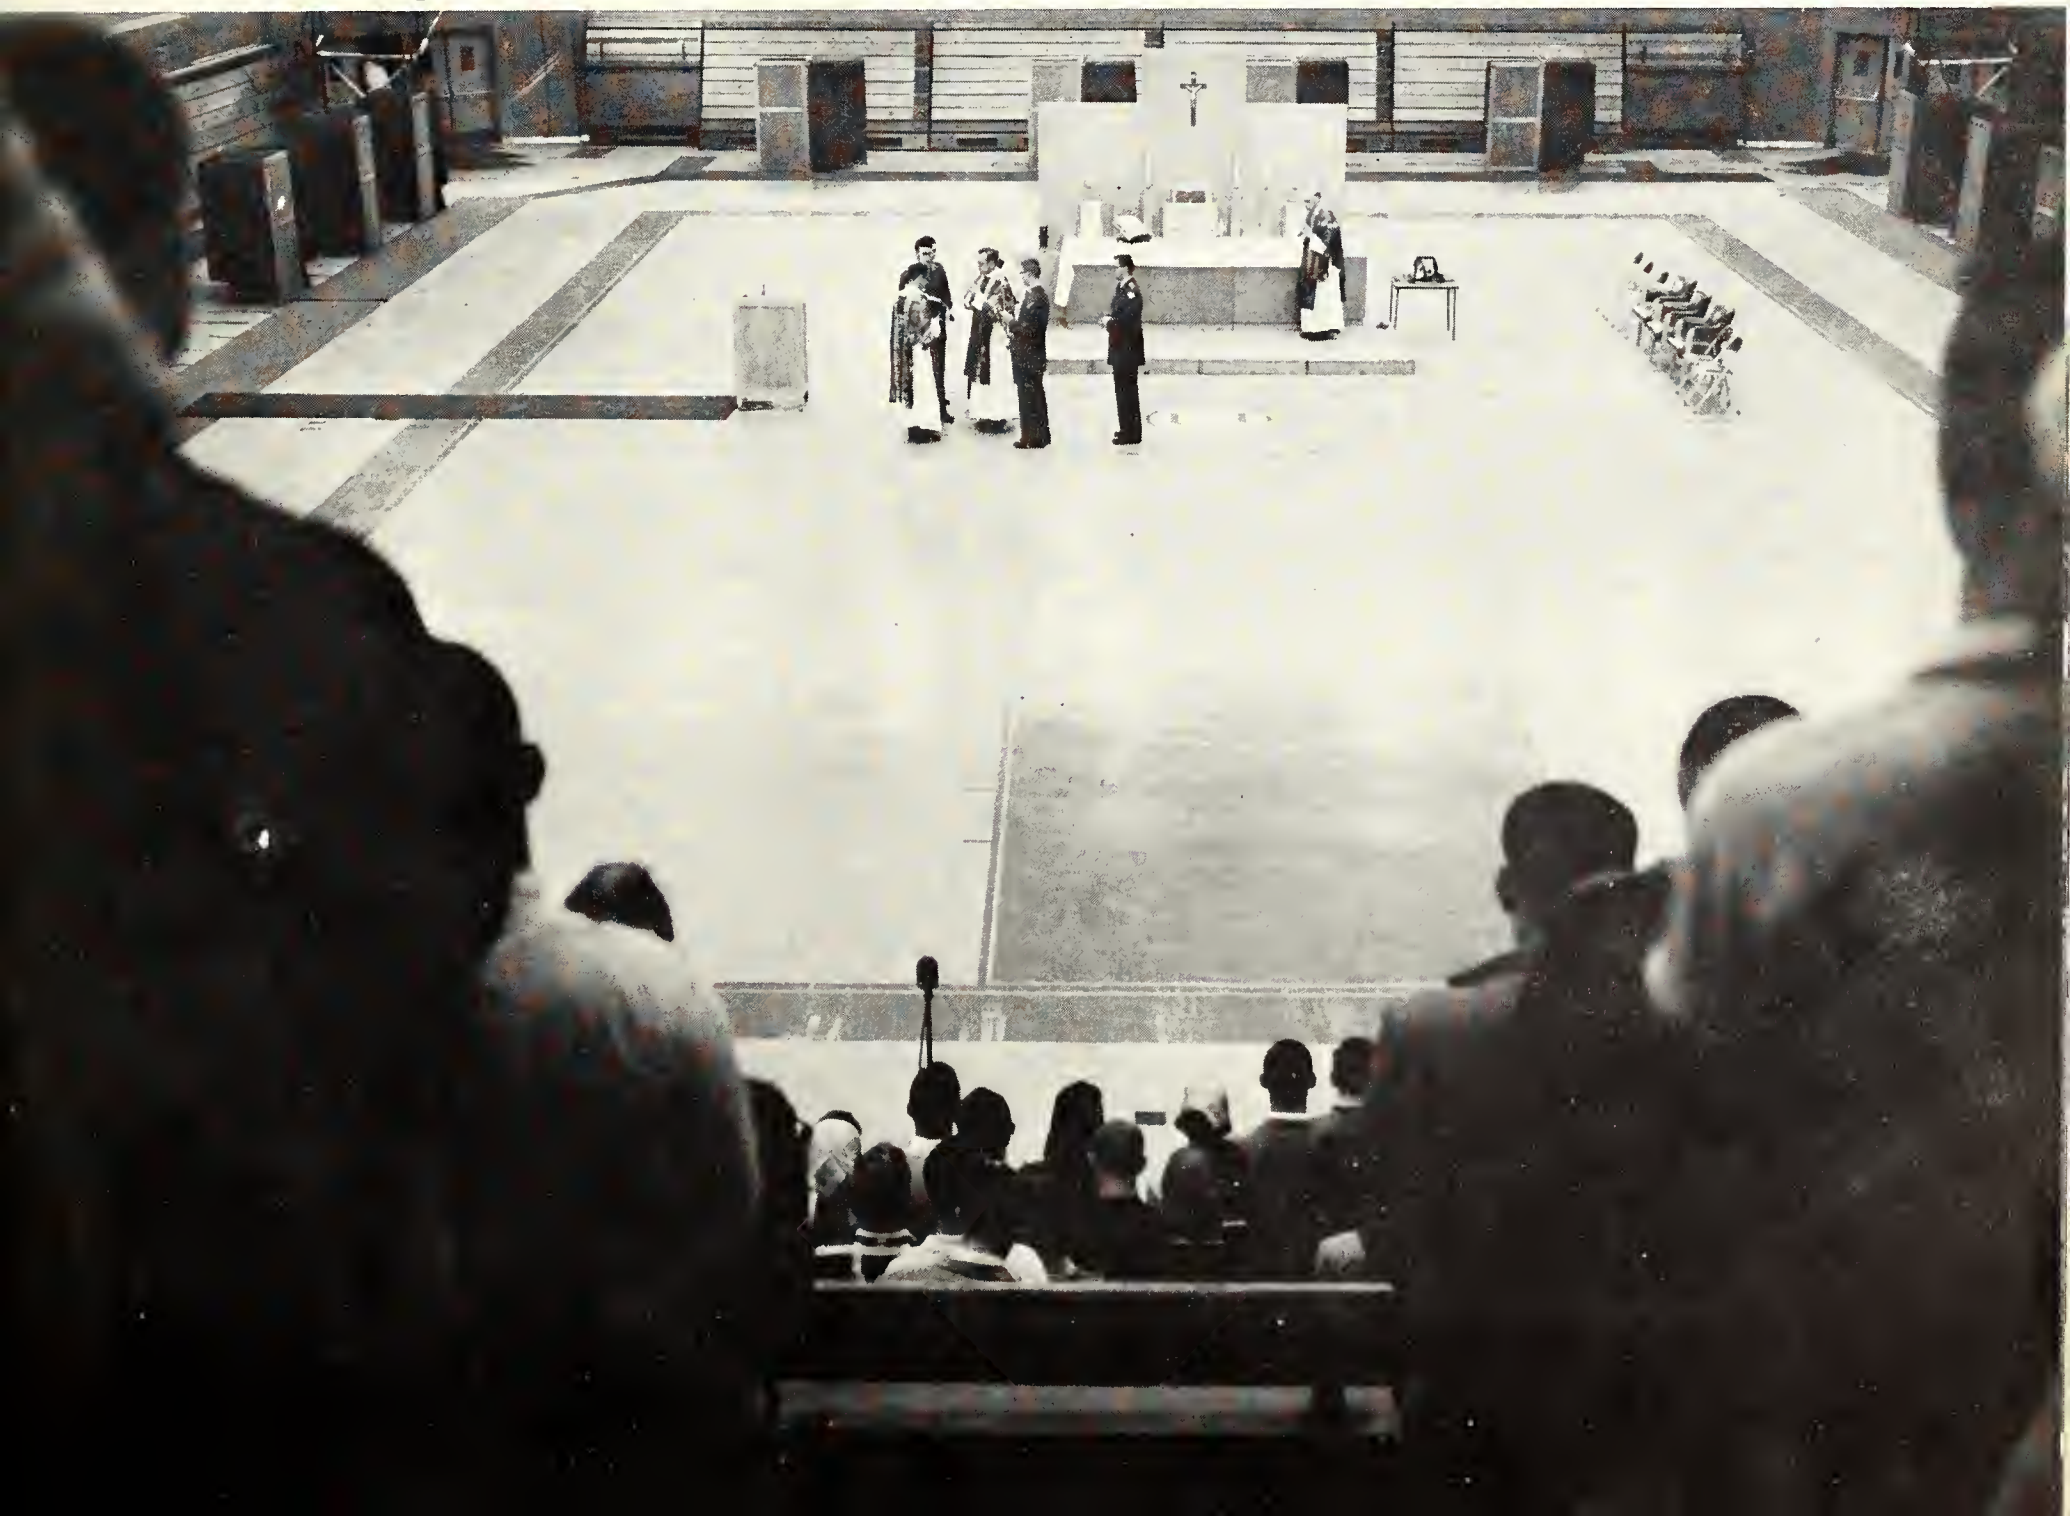
Aid for coming semester



Each year the tribute is paid.

No one is foolhardy enough to begin a difficult task without first making sure that he is prepared to handle the difficulties which may be presented. The field of knowledge is no exception. Students aptly prepare for each school year with a Mass to the Holy Ghost for guidance and light to fulfill the tasks which they have set out to accomplish. Thus, each September the Memorial Building is filled with students wise enough to realize that they cannot do a proper job to their education without proper help.

The mute participants rise in reverence as the deacon announces the gospel of the Mass.



World Mourns Two Deaths

So much achieved in life, still more in death. The saintly Eugenio Pacelli, Pope Pius XII, ended his nineteen-year reign as the Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Church on October 8, 1958. Black-draped churches throughout the world tolled the news. Weeks later, Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit, passed away in Rome. These men's lives can be summed up with the words, "They both knew, loved, and served God."

A few words are spoken in memory of Pope Pius XII.

Students of Annual

This year's aim was to have students adopt a child for the day.

Christmas is fun. Toys and gifts, special foods, tinsel, trees, and lights brighten the occasion year to year. For youngsters, Christmas is felt and longed for deeply. Yet it's hard to have everything on Christmas when money is hard to come by. That is why, every Christmas, the University through the Women Students' League attempts to fill a gap left open by difficult circumstances.

Santa's beard slipped, but no one seems to notice.

These beaming eyes can bruise any heart.

Assure Success Christmas Party

Each child finds his or her fascination.

Would you trade when you're done?

If you can get them to laugh, their little fears have vanished.

Decking Halls

Empty corners find occupants during the Yuletide season. Pine trees, symbols of the season, scent the rooms as they bear the tinsel and baubles of decoration. This is no mere display. The decorations forecast and symbolize a birthday. Each lighted tree glows like candles numbering birthday years. Snow, lightly sprinkling upon the lawns, adds to the hand-made touches on the inside.

Steiner, S. J., President of the University, Miss Helen Kean, Dean of Women, and the Rev. Joseph Foley, S. J., Student Counselor, judged the baskets in the Union Lobby. Winning baskets were judged for contents and originality.

The three judges of the basket drive carefully judged design and contents of the entries.

Pan-Hellenic Christmas Project

Christmas dolls came big this year.

The Christmas goal of the Pan-Hellenic Council this year consisted in dressing little girls for the yuletide season. Switching from dressing a Christmas doll for children, coeds set about to design new creations for needy children. The best entries in the contest were judged for superior workmanship and creativity. The dresses were to be made for girls ranging from years one to six. These clothes were given to Holy Trinity parish for distribution.

Gesu Church is the Scene for the coeds

The Annual Retreat held this year in March instead of in October, provided the students a chance to pause for three days from their frenetic schedule of classes and studies in order to take spiritual stock of themselves. This period, peculiar to Catholic education, enables the student to consider his Creator and his salvation.

Lent--Symbolized by Sacrifice

Fast, sacrifice, and prayer In yearly Easter preparation

Serious thoughts aimed at the cross on Calvary and beyond to an empty grave on Easter morning sums up the forty days of Lent. This is the time for penance, sacrifice, and fasting. Carrying the rustic cross marked by the black dust of Ash Wednesday, each individual prepares himself in his own way for the most important day of the year on which stems the integrity of all his Christian beliefs.

Ash Wednesday was celebrated in the old Chemistry chapel.

Diane Fanale had a dime for a cup of coffee and the missions, too.

Ample Space to Worship God

A true University seeks to develop the full character of its students. Some of this task is accomplished through study, the tackling of books and writing of papers. Another fragment of it is achieved through various campus activities. Still another facet, that of the spiritual growth of the students, is not neglected. Placed in the center of campus is the student chapel, source of spiritual grace. Here the students can worship and adore, talk things over with God. Past the open doors, kneeling in a pew before the altar, he can ask help and aid for his spiritual development.

Holy Mass is offered every day in the new Chapel. Right: Rita Wojno stops to light a votive candle.

Time Found For Holy Mass

The Chapel is always open. Each morning, every hour till noon tells the beginning of another Sacrifice as Mass is celebrated without fail. It is here the student drops in between classes. During Mass he has an opportunity to give thanks for a blessing, to make amends for a wrong, to ask for a favor. Soon the celebrant turns and says, "Go, Live the Mass."

A Mass schedule is posted near the chapel for reference.

Many students take the time in their tight morning schedules for daily participation in the Sacrifice.

The '58 edition of the Titans was forecast to be one equal to that of the unbeaten squad of 1928. During the few weeks which preceded the opening Titan game local sports casters predicted that U of D would be one of the football powers of the state.

From the very beginning, the team was up against great odds. Publicity, unforeseen injuries, and a tougher schedule all played a part in the let down of earlier expectations.

Sparked by Lou Faoro, team captain, the team showed a superb desire both on and off the field. With each player working in unity forming a team which lacked any individual star, the team turned out to be one of the most fiery teams Detroit has ever produced.

Wally Fromhart, Head Coach

1958 Coaching Staff

Headcoach Wally Fromhart enjoyed the services of four well and able assistants. Returning to the McNichols campus this year were John Shada, Ken Stilley, and John Ray. Shada reigned once again as backfield coach, with Ken Stilley as defensive line coach, tackle and end coach. John Ray served under Fromhart as offensive line coach, guard and center coach. A new face in the coaching staff this year was Jim Leary, who fit into the Titan plans as freshman coach under the auspices of Fromhart. All five worked together and produced one of the "peppiest" teams that Detroit has ever seen.

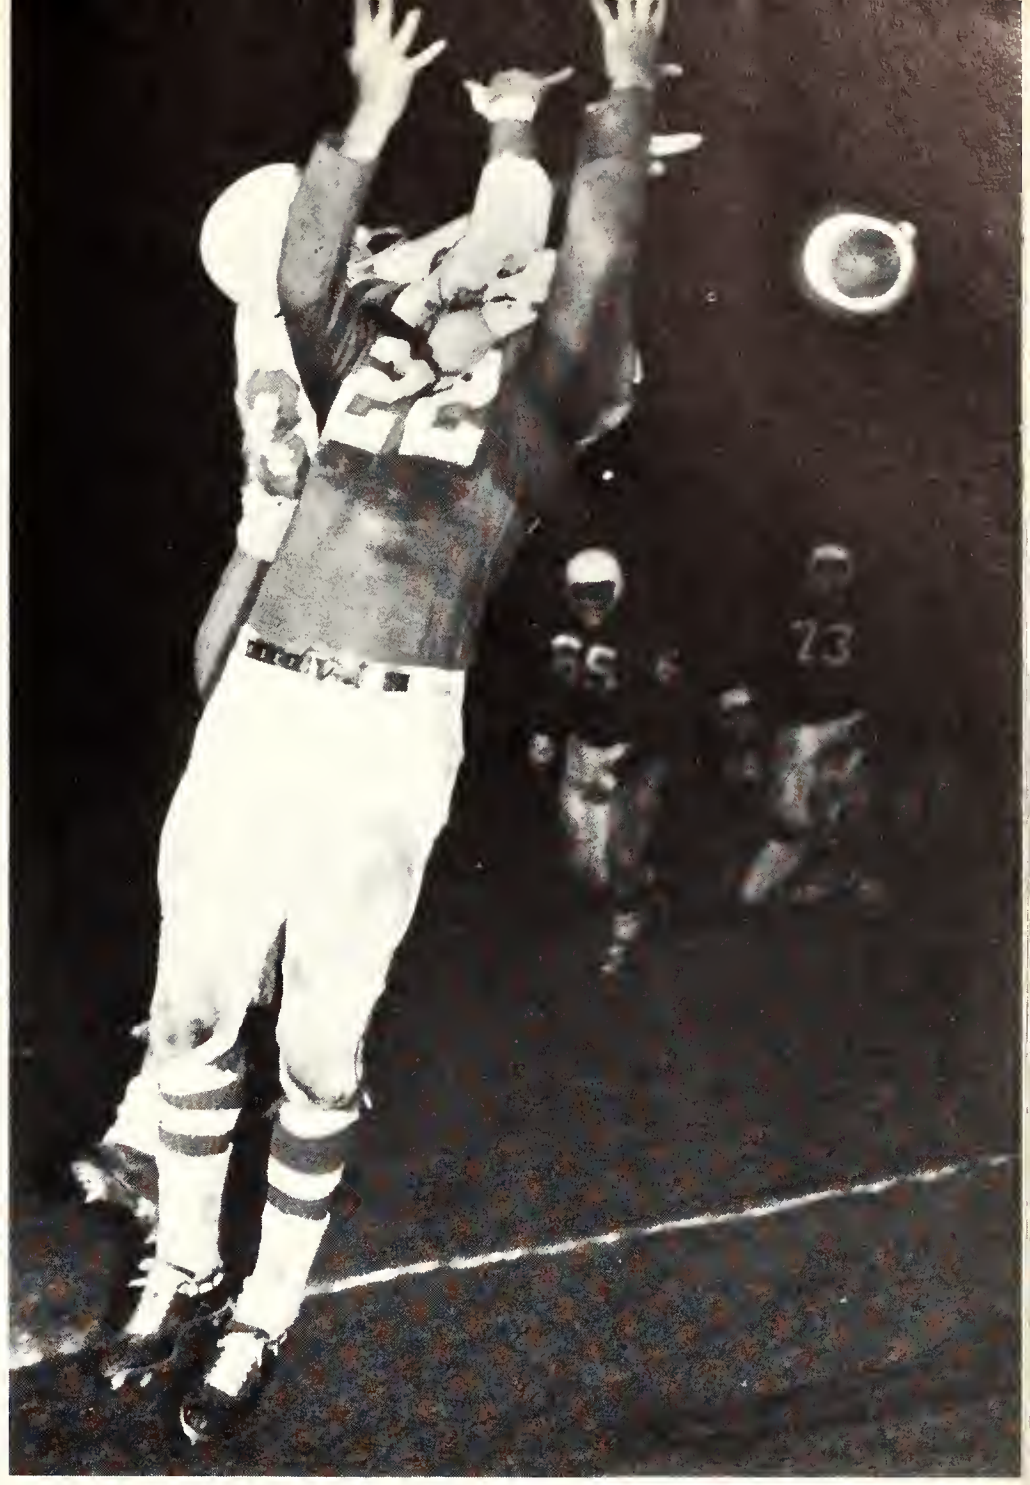
Lou Faoro scores season's first T.D.

UD vs G-W and USAF

U of D opened what was hoped to be an undefeated season with a victory over George Washington, 21-6. The Titan attack was led by Bruce Maher and Lou Faoro; and because of the superb team play, Titan fans sensed the feeling that the pre-season forecasts would come true. Once again U of D would have one of the top teams in the nation.

The following week things were different and Detroit met their Waterloo at the hands of one of the supposedly unknown teams of the country, The United States Air Force Academy, 6-37. After the defeat by the Flyboys, the mighty Titan offense couldn't get underway again because of injuries to key players.



Bill Dando searches in vain for a pass against G-W.

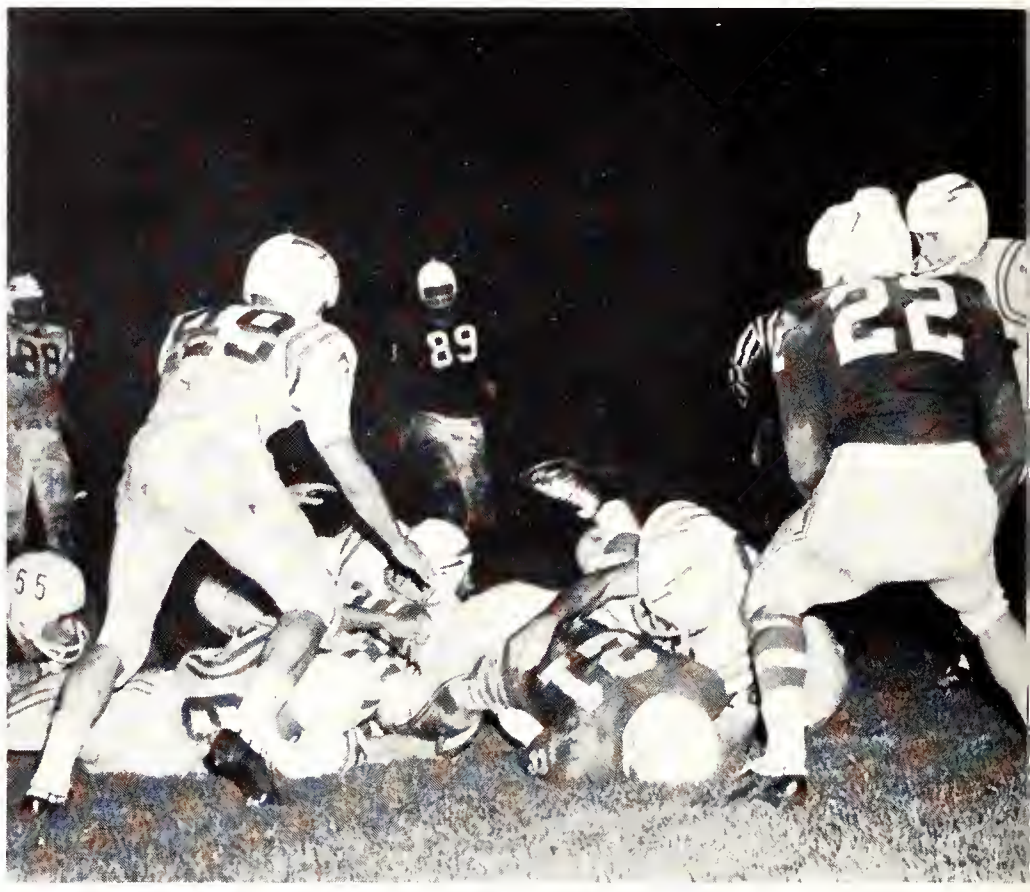
Titans meet Sundevils and Falcons

One thing after another seemed to plague this year's squad. If it wasn't injuries it was our pass defense, and if it wasn't that it was just the uneasy feeling that was in the air. Perhaps we expected too much of the Titans this year, then again maybe we had what it takes, only we didn't get the breaks. The success or failure of this year's season is not for us to decide. We all know that this year's squad, under the ample direction of Wally Fromhart, put out their all for U of D. It was men like Dick Kennedy, John Dingens, Dennis Schroeder, Ernie Fritsch, Art Brauer, Emerson Dromgold, Tony Sterlitz, Joe Ivkovich, Mike Flynn, Terry Faylor, Jim Cain, and a host of others that helped give us a respectable season.



Throughout the night the bruising Cadets refused ground.

.A spirited Sun Devil squad from Arizona State spoiled the Titan homecoming with a resounding defeat.

A good example of Lou Faoro getting that first down, the way he did all year.

UD Keeps Bucket

Tony Hanley sweeps wide to pick up that extra yardage.

As the season progressed, it looked like the Titans were falling into a set pattern, win one lose one. One thing after another seemed to add to the pressure already on the team. Articles were written about the team in various papers. Some of these articles gave the impression that they were written by people who like to hear themselves talk. There is a familiar saying that seems to fit this situation very well, "Empty barrels make the most noise". It is true that this year's team made few spectacular plays and practically no outstanding achievements, but what some people fail to realize is the fact that they did their best, and we can ask no more than that from them.

The Critic's Duty to Damn

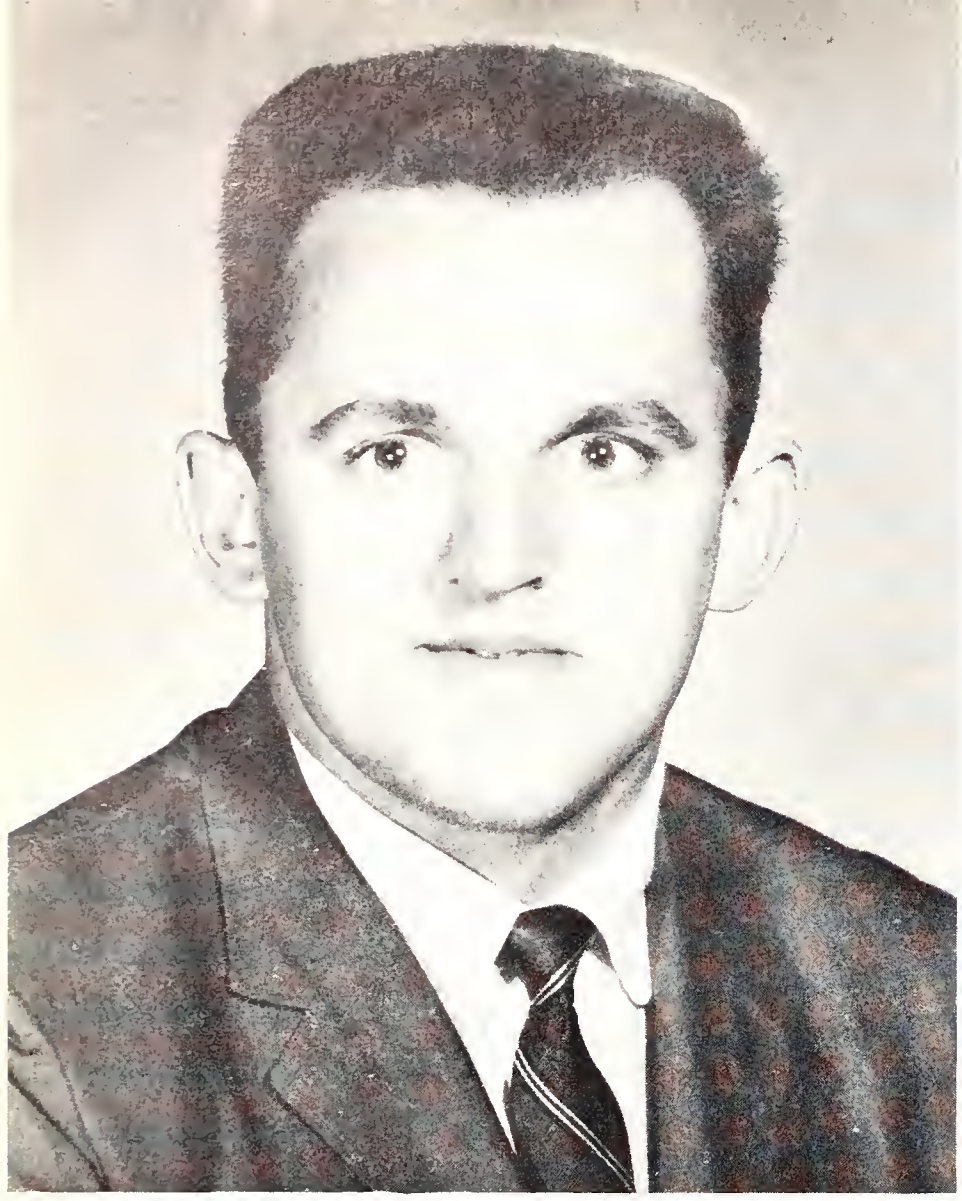
Pass defense, downfield blocking and a score of other things were some of the causes of a 4-4-1 season. This year's pass defense was no million dollar extravaganza. Along with this lack of pass defense should be added the complete dismal display of downfield blocking. All things have both a good and a bad side. This year's passing and receiving are situated at the head of the good column. The marvelous playing of Ron Klemens, Bill Kennedy, Tom Chapman, Jack Vance, Denny Flynn and the numerous backs are to be held in high esteem, while the steady passing of Lou Faoro, Tony Hanley, Dave Loner, Bob Lusky, and Larry O'Dell are not to be forgotten. Last but not least come the hard winning backs led by Bruce Maher, Vic Henning, Bill Dando, Joe Pascuzzi, Jerry Leszczynski, and Ray Davis.

Ray Davis attempts to halt a B.C. touchdown.

Denny Flynn tries in vain to break up Xavier pass play.

An opponent's tackling efforts prove successful as Denny Flynn fumbles.

Typical situation — opponents always seem to be in the open.



Ed Abramoski, trainer. Ed is one of the athletes' and coaches' best friends. It seems as though Ed is the fellow always left out of the picture. We'd like Ed to know that the athletes, coaches, and student body recognize him for his many accomplishments.

Dominic Volpe, a short good natured person who is constantly working for the Titans behind the scenes. "Dom" as he is known to everyone rules with an iron hand when it comes to equipment. He is the type of person who is a friend to everyone.

The Titan defense moves in to secure this Marquette back on a jarring, submarine tackle.

A Promising '58' Freshman Squad

An optimistic season forecasts

A victorious 1959 Varsity team

Under the supervision of Jim Leary, who was aided by Larry Stremus and John Carroll, U of D's Freshman squad was one which possessed many sparkling and talented players.

Although they were to play but four games, the squad began to work-out daily as if they were to play a full schedule. When the season ended, the Freshmen's record was a respectable 2 and 2. Both losses were incurred on the road, at the hands of Bowling Green and Dayton. However, the combined points by which the team suffered its defeats was an impressive 3 points. Victories were recorded over Port Austin and Central Michigan's J-V's, both by a wide scoring margin.

Surely, the forecast of next season's varsity can be one of great hopes due to the fact that the talented Freshman players will all graduate to the varsity.

A year of experience — this has been echoing off the walls of U of D from the beginning of the season until the end. If this statement is analyzed, it will be found true. The spirit of the team may not be that of a champion, but credit should be given where it is due, and by all means it is due here. The season started off with a bang, but slowed down with reference to the rapidity of victories after the Motor City Tournament.

Titans Surge On

When the season opened against Assumption, the Titans looked like a million dollars. With that game under their belt, they left for Lansing to take on the Spartans. This was the true test of our sophomore-ridden team. When the Titans dropped this game, a new policy was formed. Rules were stricter, practice was lónger, and the spirit was built up to a point where they took four of the next five games.

Motor City Tournament Develops Into Nation Wide Classic

The Motor City Classic was one of the best tournaments in the nation this year. The opening round found U of D pitted against Army, and Michigan against Princeton. The Titans were victorious over Army while Michigan walked by Princeton. In the finals Michigan proved to be too much for the young Titans and as a result, U of D ended up in second place. Princeton found themselves and beat Army.

After the Motor City Classic ended, things began to happen and the team just seemed to fall apart. Marquette and Notre Dame proved to be too tough for the Titans and the record of 7-2 before the Motor City Classic seemed to melt away to an 8 6 record. When the Titans came up against Bowling Green, a change in their team spirit was noted and a sparkling game both offensively and defensively was played. It seems as though everyone always sees the bad side of things, with never a thought toward the good. The most important thing about this season is the fact that the team has gained valuable experience.

Meet the 1958--1959 Titan Frosh

If the 1958-1959 freshman team's superb showing (12-3) is any indication, the next season's varsity should be studded with sophomores. Of the three games lost, two were heartbreakers, and the wins were emphatic. Coach McNamara's charges have set a hard precedent for following freshman teams.

The big gun for the frosh five was Dave DeBusschere, the golden boy of Detroit prep basketball with his 22.5 point average. Combined with his brilliant scoring spree, the tightly disciplined team play insured the beginnings of an excellent varsity squad in 1959-1960.

Golf Team

Hard work brings

Fame and importance

To the 1959 golf team

The importance of the golf team has risen to a prominent position this year through the untiring efforts of coach William Kelly Joyce. This year's team proved themselves to be ranked among the best teams to come out of U of D.

TENNIS BECOMES A MAJOR SPORT DURING 1959 SEASON

A new coach and a sophomore dominated tennis team give U of D's tennis fortunes an optimistic glow. Dick Taddonio, in his first year as a physical education instructor here, finds himself replacing Hershiel Fennimore as tennis coach. Although this is his first opportunity to coach tennis, his interest and enthusiasm for the sport plus his previous coaching experience gives the team hope for a successful season. Varsity experience is the main deficiency with the team. It is hoped that desire, conditioning and practice will offset this. Jim Drinan, senior and captain, Jim Stapleton, senior, are all that remain from last year's squad. Five promising sophomores have moved up from the Freshman Team. They are Bill Hershey, Bill Billinghurst, Ed Goebel, Gary Fawcette and Charles Pische. Returning from the service are sophomores Bill Kisnowski and Bob Maloney.

The Freshman squad, coached by Don Milazzo, former varsity netman, has six promising players, and the size of their schedule gives promise of providing the varsity with more experienced Sophomores next year.

Fencing Team - The "Winningest"

The 1958-59 University of Detroit Fencing Team compiled an 11-6 won-lost record. This team, recognized as U of D's winningest, did not come by this record easily. This year's team met six of the top ten teams in the nation plus every school that fields a fencing team in the Big Ten. This year the team was captained by senior Jerry Surowiec, the number one saber man. Some of the outstanding performers this year besides captain Surowiec were Juan Zaccour (saber), Mike Bruce (epee), and Pat Brunett (foil), and Mike Keenan (saber). Next year's fencing team will boast five returning letter men with a total of seven letters among them: Mike Bruce (2), Mike Keenan (2), Dick Comar (1), John Eilertson (1), Joe Steyart (1). The 1958 team was rated 11th in the nation on the basis of its performance at the NCAA championships.

New Look

Jim Caton and Arno Neumaier get in early practice.

It only took nine years for the Sailing Club to become one of the country's top sailing teams. Within those nine years, the club grew from a mere handful of sailing enthusiasts to about sixty fellows and girls, who, for the most part, had never seen a sailboat. The club is set up to teach all interested students the art of sailing. And during the spring the top sailors are picked to represent U of D in intercollegiate sailing throughout the country. In order to have a Sailing Club you must have boats and sailboats are a very expensive investment. On their own, using every legal method of raising the capital needed, they have purchased three racing dinghies. This past season saw the U of D sailors top the Jesuit Colleges for the second straight year, also winning two first place trophies, three seconds, and two thirds. Overall, the sailors finished the season among the country's top ten.

Track Team

Emphasis on Track..

Successful season

In past years the Titan track team has been just another spring sport. This year we find it in a place of prominence due to the magnificent coaching of Coach Vern Fahrenkrug. This year's team is ten times as strong as last year's due to such sprinters as George Heger, Jim Shorter and Charlie Rohl and the mile relay team of J. Shorter, L. Vargo, P. Maloney, and D. Watkins.

During the winter months we find the team upstairs underneath the M.B. stands in a place known as "Vern's Torture Chamber." When the weather gets up to about 40° then you see them on the outdoor track running in 3 inches of mud. The co-captains of this year's team are Paul Maloney and Dick Anderson, who is U of D's best polevaulter.

SAD DAY FOR THE IRISH

KRAUTS CLOBBER MICKS

The 11th annual tug of war between the Irish and the Germans, sponsored by the St. Francis Club lasted just over two minutes, just long enough for the German types, under the brilliant direction Herr Field Marshal Tom Nachazel, to pull the first Irishman over the line and grasp victory. The Irish, working under the plucky Mike McCann, lost, but were gracious about it. Outmanned and outflanked, the Micks engaged the Krauts in a small hassle afterwards, the outcome of which is a matter of opinion.

The program included selections from "Prince Igor," "Il Trovatore," and "La Traviata." Dominic Cossa and Marie Sabbe Pfeiffer fervently interpreted Verdi's "Dite All Giovine." ALPHA CHI, a general social fraternity, was founded on the University of Detroit campus in 1926, so that the students attending different colleges of the University may enjoy a common fraternal association and the cultivation and improvement of the individual's intellectual, moral, and social being. The fraternity co-sponsored the "Stepping Out" dance. They annually provide a scholarship fund for needy students which is given to the University. No one can forget their spirited Homecoming Queen Campaign, with their raccoon coats, antique cars, and enthusiastic spirits.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

The members of ALPHA EPSILON DELTA sponsor many worthwhile activities on campus. This national professional pre-medical and pre-dental fraternity co-sponsors medical films during the year with commentaries by dignitaries of the medical world. Their year is highlighted by the "Educator of the Year Award" given to the outstanding member of the faculty. An award is also given to the graduating senior with the highest cumulative average in the pre-medical or pre-dental curriculum. Uppermost on their social calendar is the Scalpel Ball, a costume dance held during the latter part of October. During the final week of pledgeship the AED pledges can be easily recognized on campus by the surgical outfits which they wear.

The Alpha Nu Chapter of ALPHA OMEGA, a national dental fraternity, was established at the U of D Dental School in 1937. This fraternity received a plaque testifying that its members had maintained the highest scholastic average in 1955-56. It offers the Alpha Omega Scholastic Award to the senior with the highest four-year average. The members annually give an undergraduate brother a scholarship award certificate. The Alpha Omega Achievement Medal is presented to the outstanding professional contributor to dentistry.

United by a pledge of service to the University, the members of ALPHA PHI OMEGA act as ushers at various spiritual and cultural activities during the course of the school year. In conjunction with Gamma Sigma Sigma they operate the Student Book Exchange. The fraternity sponsors the annual "Ugliest Man On Campus" contest, with the winner serving as court jester at the Spring Carnival. The March of Dimes Skating Party and the Calico Ball are the major social activities of the group. Last year they placed third for the Alpha Sigma Nu Award for service and scholarship as an organization.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

Formerly a national commerce sorority as Phi Gamma Nu, and then a local sorority as Chi Omicron, in December, 1958, ALPHA SIGMA TAU was founded on the U of D campus. The members have often been noted participating in student activities. Homecoming, including parade activities, Carnival, and the Student Seminar are important events to the sorority. Each girl strives to serve the school in the best way she is able.

DELTA SIGMA PI

Gamma Rho Chapter

The Gamma Rho chapter of DELTA SIGMA PI was founded in 1950 especially for the men of the evening division of the College of Commerce and Finance, located on the downtown campus. Socially, the fraternity participates in the annual Spring Carnival, and presents yearly the popular Rose Dinner Dance. Delta Sig awards a scholarship key to the senior commerce student with the highest scholastic average.

DELTA SIGMA PI

Theta Chapter

The Theta chapter of DELTA SIGMA PI, precursor of its brother chapter at the University, was founded in 1921, with the objective of bringing the commerce student closer to the business world than is possible in the classroom. The uptown chapter of Delta Sigma Pi participates actively in Homecoming and Carnival, and annually presents the fabled Football Frolic. A scholarship key is awarded each year to the student on the uptown campus with the highest scholastic average.

A national social sorority, DELTA ZETA is active in important school activities such as the Carnival, Homecoming, and the Easter and Christmas basket drives. Their special projects include work with a patient at Carville, contributions to Gallaudet College, the Asian book drive, and sponsoring speakers on standards of Delta Zeta. They sponsor the Maytime Ball, and give two Easter Basket Drive Awards to campus groups. As a sorority they have themselves received many awards, including the Big Horn Award at the National Convention for the Easter Basket Drive.

GAMMA ETA GAMMA

Mu Chapter of GAMMA ETA GAMMA, national law fraternity, strives to promote general fraternization among students and practitioners of the legal profession. It was founded at U of D in 1919. The fraternity is represented on all levels of student activity at the law school such as the Board of Moot Court Directors, the Law Journal, the Student Advisory Committee, and other legal and quasi-legal organizations. In addition to participation in mock trials and review sessions, Gamma Eta Gamma grants awards for high scholarship in the study of law. Among other social activities, the fraternity offers its members an annual picnic, golf match, and Christmas party. The social calendar is culminated in the fraternity Founder's Day Banquet.

Striving to unite the college and university women in a spirit of service to school, community, and to all humanity, many girls at the University have joined GAMMA SIGMA SIGMA, a national service sorority. As projects, the girls sponsor a rummage sale, Christmas basket drive, and the Student Book Exchange, which is run jointly with Alpha Phi Omega. Dances have found the girls active also. They sponsor the Colonial Prom and Calico Ball, two widely known dances on campus. As a service sorority, they yearly present a plaque to the organization on campus presenting the best basket for the Christmas Basket Drive. They recently received an award for being the best chapter in the national service sorority.

KAPPA BETA GAMMA

KAPPA BETA GAMMA is a national social sorority whose purpose is to promote a spirit of service and fellowship among its members. Besides co-sponsoring the Tower Ball annually, the sorority participates in many other campus activities. For the last three years, KBG's candidate for "Ugly Man on Campus" has won. The last two years they have won the prize for the best sorority in the Homecoming Parade. KBG annually presents a scholarship key to the graduating Arts coed with the highest average. They also present a key to the Arts freshman coed with the highest average.

PHI GAMMA NU, founded in 1931 at the University of Detroit, has recently become reactivated at the Evening College of Commerce and Finance. Once again the Zeta Chapter is serving a useful function on campus. Bringing members into closer friendship and loyalty to one another, they are promoting a high scholastic standard and encouraging participation in school activities. Through planned activities they promote greater interest in civic and professional enterprises among themselves.

PSI OMEGA

PSI OMEGA, a professional dental fraternity, was founded at the University of Detroit in 1940. Annually Psi Omega sponsors a pre-Lenten Ball besides their fraternity dances. It also sponsors the Senior Sendoff and a Big Brother Day. Professionally it sponsors clinics, professional films, guest lectures and discussions in order to provide a well-rounded environment for the undergraduate dental student. Psi Omega also annually awards a scholastic achievement award and a fraternity achievement award. The Frater, their publication, is internationally distributed. In it are included articles of professional and social interest.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

In 1956 Upsilon Delta Sigma, a local fraternity, became a chapter of SIGMA PHI EPSILON, national social fraternity. Each year the University's highest scoring basketball player is honored by receiving a trophy from the group. The fraternity also co-sponsors the Turkey Trot and Maytime Ball. This year they have won the Handball Trophy, Chariot Race, and their candidate was selected Homecoming Queen. The "Sig Eps" are famous for their unique entertainment at Carnival time; for year after year, these male "Rockettes" really present a hilarious show.

Their special project is to raise money for the Robbie Page Memorial Fund for polio. Socially they sponsor the Football Frolic with Delta Sigma Pi and the March of Dimes Skating Party with Alpha Phi Omega. The girls are constantly striving to aid the campus by actively participating in all campus functions.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

The purpose of TAU KAPPA EPSILON fraternity is to promote, encourage, and sustain the intellectual and social development of the individual and collective membership in conjunction with service to the University and community. A national social fraternity, "Teke" was founded at the University of Detroit in 1956. Annually they sponsor a Keep Detroit Beautiful campaign on campus. In conjunction with this they award a "Miss Keep Detroit Beautiful" trophy. Last year they won the first place fraternity award in the Easter Basket contest. In addition they sponsor the All-Campus Mixer.

On campus since May, 1956, Theta Kappa Phi is a national social catholic fraternity. As such it has been working primarily to bring students to a closer brotherly relationship by way of promoting a spirit of good fellowship, and encouraging the attainment of a high scholastic standing. Activity-wise it has already established itself on campus by sponsoring the Autumn Mixer as well as working actively on the Spring Carnival. Theta Kappa Phi is also the brother fraternity to Theta Phi Alpha.

THETA PHI ALPHA

A national panhellenic Catholic sorority, Theta Phi Alpha, was founded in order to encourage a closer comradeship among Catholic women students. They annually co-sponsor the Christmas Ball, and have a Communion Breakfast and Founder's Day celebration. They had the most money-making booth at Carnival in 1958. The sorority presents the Senior Service Award to the outstanding senior of the year. A new tradition of this chapter is the choosing of "The Sweetie Pie of Theta Phi," annually, from the male population on campus.

A fraternity most active in all the phases of campus life is TUYERE, the local engineering social fraternity on campus since 1918. Since its purpose is "promoting good fellowship and high scholastic standing," as established in its Preamble, Tuyere presents an annual award to the outstanding engineering senior on the basis of cooperation, student activity and personality. Socially, Tuyere cosponsors the Christmas Ball with Theta Phi Alpha and this fall it also initiated a Roller Skating Party during Orientation Week with Delta Zeta sorority. Other well-supported activities include a Homecoming queen candidate, Homecoming float, and a carnival booth each year at the Spring carnival.

ALPHA SIGMA NU, a national Jesuit honorary fraternity, was organized on the University of Detroit campus in 1924. Fifteen male members of the junior class are appointed anually to membership in this society. The student who attains the highest scholastic average throughout four college years is awarded the yearly Alpha Sigma Nu key. The Alpha Sigma Nu Christian Achievement award is presented anually to the organization which has rendered the greatest service to the University, while its membership has maintained a high scholastic average.

BLUE KEY

BLUE KEY, a national honor society, recognizes as important the ability of a student to excel not only scholastically, but also to lead and participate in co-curricular activities. With this purpose in mind, Blue Key annually appoints to membership those male students of junior or senior standing, who have excelled both scholastically and activity-wise. Members of the group annually present President's Night Dinner, at which Father Steiner, as president of the University, and presidents of the numerous campus organizations are honored. This year, the University of Detroit chapter of Blue Key acted as hosts for their national convention from December 28 through December 30, held downtown at the Statler Hilton.

CHI EPSILON, a national civil engineering honorary fraternity, considers the four traits—scholarship, character, practicality, and sociability—as distinguishing marks of the successful, well-rounded engineer. In order to promote this ideal, they present annually at the Slide Rule Dinner a Civil Engineering Handbook to that civil engineer who best exemplifies their idea of the perfect engineer. Membership is open to those civil engineers who are in the upper half of their class scholastically and have distinguished themselves in leadership. Chi Epsilon participates yearly in Carnival, co-operates in the presentation of the Slide Rule Dinner, and sponsors an Engineering Communion Breakfast each year.

The Beta Sigma Chapter of ETA KAPPA NU was established on the U of D campus in 1947, with the lofty purpose of assisting its members to become better men in their profession and to become better citizens. They sponsor an Engineering Breakfast each year, and, as a national electrical engineering honor fraternity, award an engineering handbook to the junior electrical engineer with the highest scholastic average for his first two years.

GAMMA PI EPSILON

GAMMA PI EPSILON is a national Jesuit honor society for women. It was established to honor women students who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, loyalty, and service to the university. The purpose of the sorority is to promote the various activities of the university and bands together its members and the alumni who have most fully realized and exemplified the ideals of a Jesuit education. An award is given each year by the honor society to an outstanding Sophomore student who, in the opinion of the sorority members, best fulfills the purposes of the group.

LAMBDA IOTA TAU

LAMBDA IOTA TAU is a national literary honor society which was established on the University of Detroit campus in 1954. The aim of this society is to promote an interest in the study and pursuit of every aspect of literature and its related fields. This group presents discussion groups and bull sessions which are of cultural interest to all college students. In addition to these activities they try to stimulate more active participation in school publications.

PI KAPPA DELTA

PI KAPPA DELTA, national honorary forensic society, founded at U of D in 1933, co-sponsors annually with the Speech Club the Skinner Debate, In connection with this they are co-donors of the Skinner Debate Medal. In addition they put on speech exhibitions before the students. This year they received the Pi Kappa Delta Regional Debate championship. They also received the sweepstakes trophy at the regional convention.

An active national honorary mechanical engineering fraternity, PI TAU SIGMA strives mainly to foster the high ideals of the engineering profession, and to establish a closer bond of fellowship among outstanding contributors to the profession of mechanical engineering. To carry out these aims, the fraternity sponsors slide-rule classes and a Student-Loan fund. A student handbook award is presented each year to that sophomore engineering student maintaining the highest scholastic average. This past year the National Convention was held at U of D. Activities include participation in the Spring Carnival, the Slide-Rule dinner, and publication of the Engineering News.

PHI ALPHA THETA appeared on the University of Detroit campus in March, 1958. It is a national honor society in history. Members must show interest and excellence in the field of history by having completed at least twelve hours with better than a B average. The purpose of Phi Alpha Theta is to promote and recognize excellence in the study of history. Although Phi Alpha Theta is a new organization on campus they already award an annual scholarship key.

PSI CHI

PSI CHI is a national honor society in psychology which aims to advance the science of psychology and to encourage, stimulate, and maintain scholarship of the individual members in all fields, but particularly in psychology. In the past they have presented an award to the writer of the best term paper in psychology. This year an award was given to the senior psychology major scoring highest on the Graduate Record Examination in his major subject. Membership in this organization is by invitation.

TAU BETA PI, a national honorary engineering society, is designed to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and character as undergraduates in engineering, or by their attainments as alumni in the field of engineering, and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in the engineering colleges of America. In school activities they conduct faculty rating polls for the engineering college, and sponsor bulletin boards for engineering organizations. At the Slide Rule Dinner the organization presents an engineering handbook to the sophomore who has attained the highest average during his freshman year, and a slide rule to the junior with the highest average.

The AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERS was founded at the University of Detroit in 1936, and its membership is open to all chemical engineers. It is the student division of the national professional organization which seeks to promote all aspects of chemical engineering by providing talks and discussions on pertinent subjects to supplement class work. Members of AIChE attend their regional convention each year, sponsor a spring banquet, and attend movies and speeches in the field of chemical engineering. This group annually presents an award to the outstanding junior chemical engineer, and the outstanding senior member receives the Dr. Duncombe award. All senior members are eligible to compete for monetary awards in a nation-wide contest sponsored by the Institute.

The student chapter of the AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS was established on the University of Detroit campus to promote a professional attitude among civil engineering students. Its chief projects this year include a dinner meeting for the Michigan Section of the ASCE and a regional conference for civil engineering students. In addition to monthly meetings and attendance at local section meetings and national conventions, the ASCE produces two television shows, a Carnival booth and participates in the Slide Rule Dinner.

At the University of Detroit, the AMERICAN RED CROSS BOARD is the representative of the inter-collegiate Red Cross. Comprised entirely of students, it assists in carrying out various volunteer activities. Visiting homes for the aged, Northville Sanitarium, and other institutions are among its many worthy projects. In March, the Board conducts a fund drive, the proceeds of which are sent to the Detroit Red Cross Chapter. On campus, the Board has extended its services to various organizations and groups, aiding them in obtaining their individual objectives.

The AMERICAN SOCIETY OF HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING ENGINEERS, national professional organization, was founded at the University of Detroit in 1949. Its members are united to exchange ideas and interests in their field, to obtain an insight into the activities of a national professional engineering society, and to increase their understanding of the problems of air conditioning and related industries. The A.S.H.A.E. is an excellent supplement to the mechanical engineering students' classroom work as the organization provides field trips and current literature.

ANGEL FLIGHT

The purpose of ANGEL FLIGHT is to acquaint the coed with current and world affairs by lectures and other public functions, to give her poise and self confidence in a group and as an individual. Projects include the annual Blood Drive and the Field Day. Socially, they help with the Military Ball and sponsor a welcoming tea and lectures. They also work on Carnival. In 1958 they were awarded a trophy for having the highest points as a military group on campus.

SECTION B

The University of Detroit student branch of the AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS strives toward the advancement and dissemination of knowledge of the theory and practice of mechanical engineering, the presentation of a proper perspective of engineering work and the promotion of a professional awareness and fellowship in the society. The organization of seventy undergraduates in mechanical engineering presents the Charles T. Main Award to the engineer with the highest average during his sophomore year. The ASME also participates in school activities, such as Carnival and the engineering television series.

A national honor society for advanced Air Force ROTC cadets, the ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY strives to further the purpose, mission, tradition, and concept of the United States Air Force as a means of national security. It creates a closer relationship within the Air Reserve Officer Training Corps. The annual Military Ball is an important project of the Society. The blood drive each year and the Society dinner dance round out its activities. The distinguished service award is granted to the member who contributes most to the Society.

ARCHDIOCESAN COUNCIL OF CATHOLIC YOUTH

The ARCHDIOCESAN COUNCIL OF CATHOLIC YOUTH is the coordinating body for the activities of all the Catholic youth groups in the Archdiocese of Detroit. Its work is done on an Archdiocesan level and is directly responsible to the Archbishop's office. Some of its activities include publicizing Catholic Youth Week and sponsoring the Youth Holy Hour.

CHEERLEADERS

The CHEERLEADERS, a campus organization since 1935, were founded to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship. This year they were aided by the Booster Club in leading spectator participation. Its members lead the University of Detroit's cheering section at all football and basketball games. This includes all student trips also. They too participate in the Homecoming Parade, the Carnival Parade and in all Pep Rallies.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The University of Detroit CHEMISTRY CLUB was organized on campus in 1933. Its purpose is to promote scientific interest among underclassmen in the field of chemistry. The members of this organization attend meetings, lectures, and films pertaining to their field. Beginning next year the Father Shiple Award will be given to a deserving student.

CHICAGO CLUB

The relatively new CHICAGO CLUB has as its purpose to encourage Chicago area students to attend U of D, to give needed assistance to any university student from the Chicago area, and to promote a common medium by which university students may keep in closer contact. The Chicago Club sponsors parties, dances, and other social functions in Chicago over recesses and during summer vacation. Detroit is included in their social calendar by means of hayrides, dances, and Homecoming. This year is the first year they will participate in Carnival.

The University of Detroit CHORUS in six years has become the harbinger of U of D's good will at non-university functions. The Chorus performs on television shows and at various charity shows. The school agenda includes a Christmas concert, student concert, the spring dinner dance, and participation in Carnival. The organization enters the Christmas Basket Contest, and last year it was the proud recipient of first prize.

CONFRATERNITY OF CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE

Members of the CONFRATERNITY OF CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE give up their time that others may learn the basic principles of the Catholic faith. They work primarily with youths retained at the Juvenile Detention Home. Since the organization was founded on campus in 1956 it has grown considerably in size as others became interested in this rewarding work. During the past year, the CCD initiated a series of lectures dealing with the various aspects of youth.

SECTIONS A AND B

The INSTITUTE OF AERONAUTICAL SCIENCES is a professional aeronautical engineering society. Films and speakers are presented at bi-monthly meetings. The Institute participates in the engineering television series and Carnival. The student branch Scholastic Award is presented to the engineer who has attained the best scholastic record during his pre-senior and senior years. This society also gives a Continental Design Award, and a Paper Presentation Award given to the graduate preparing and presenting the best lecture at a regular student branch meeting.

HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB

ROW 1: T. O'Keefe, J. Duckett, B. Blackburn, Vice-Pres., E. Broussard, Sec., F. Rizzo, Pres., D. Walton, Treas., T. Uriarte, Fr. Loveley, Moderator; ROW 2: S. Thomas, R. Sumakitis, J. Glynn, L. Rebar, T. Vaughan, H. Childress, F. Chin-Choy, L. Gardner.

The promotion of good human relations by eliminating minority group prejudices is the goal of the HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB. They do this mainly by talking to high school classes and adult groups in connection with the Catholic Interracial Council. They sponsor films and talks by noted speakers on human relation problems. In recognition of their fine efforts in the past this club has received the Thomas J. Crowe Interracial Justice Award and the Alpha Sigma Nu Award. The club also gives a party at Christmas time for the underprivileged in order to spread the joyful spirit of the holiday season.

BOWLING LEAGUE

The INTER-FRATERNITY BOWLING LEAGUE was founded in 1954 on the University of Detroit campus. Its aim is to promote friendship and a competitive spirit among the various organizations on campus. At the present time there are teams competing for the championship. This league is directly affiliated with the University's intramural system. Any points a team may get from a championship are used in determining the intramural sports championship. The league culminates its active year with a Bowling Banquet where trophies are given to the winning individuals and teams.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION

To promote international friendship and common understanding among the different nationalities on campus is the purpose of the INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION. They hope to be better able to help their respective countries in their understanding of the American people when they return home. At the same time, they want to be able to promote a mutual understanding between themselves which might help to relieve international tension in the future. Since the group was organized this year they are just in the process of organizing the dates for projects.

JUNIOR AMERICAN DENTAL ASSOCIATION

All Dental School students are members of the JUNIOR AMERICAN DENTAL ASSOCIATION. This is the student governing body of the School of Dentistry. Every class is represented, with the president of the senior class also the president of this organization. One of the projects of the Junior American Dental Association is the sponsorship and the up-keep of the student center. Another is stimulating interest in dentistry and associated fields. JADA sponsors the Odonto Ball and a booth at Carnival.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

The KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS, University of Detroit Council No. 3661, is responsible for the sale of many Catholic books on campus. This is a part of their purpose of promoting educational and religious welfare. Members of the University council take boys from the St. Francis Home to many Detroit area sporting events. Three keys are presented annually by the council to three of its members. One is for outstanding service, the second for participation in activities, and the third for loyalty to the council and the University.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

During the year 1930, the oldest University language club was founded and given the name "LE CERCLE FRANCAIS". Since that time it has promoted a better, more thorough understanding of French life, culture, and language by means of engaging speakers on these topics, and by sponsoring French movies at the Art Institute. "Le Cercle Francais" is active socially as well as scholastically. Evidence of this are their annual Halloween and Christmas parties, as well as a picnic when the weather gets warm.

MAJORETTES

E. Keating, J. Tercheck, B. Pearson, N. Hentschel.

The MAJORETTES in their distinctive white and red outfits, twirling their batons, can be seen wherever the marching band is performing. In fact, their purpose is to entertain at football half-time in conjunction with the marching band, and also to participate in parades. Since 1955, when they first appeared on campus they have added much color to half-time activities at football games. Letters are awarded annually to their members.

MARKETING CLUB

United to advance the science of Marketing, the members of the University of Detroit MARKETING CLUB seek to familiarize students with Detroit as a marketing center. They hold several luncheons each year at which men, distinguished in their respective fields, speak on various subjects pertaining to marketing. Chartered in 1957-58 by the American Marketing Association, the club strives to retain the information given by the speakers for their own practical use in the future. An award is given each year to the outstanding senior in marketing.

The UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT RIFLES has brought honor to the University by winning awards in drill team competition on local, state, and national levels. The organization renders a service by instructing the cadets at the St. Francis Home for Boys. They participate in parades and co-sponsor the Military Ball in December at which time both an Army and an Air Force Sweetheart are chosen to reign over the corps.

RADIO ENGINEERS ASSOCIATION

The call letters W8LGA hold an important meaning to those active members of the RADIO ENGINEERING ASSOCIATION who operate the club's licensed short-wave radio station. For those aspiring to become amateur radio operators, classes conducted to promote the art of amateur "ham" radio are found to be most beneficial. The rebuilding and expanding of the club's radio station is right in line with the activities of the club, as is participation in National Radio Operating Proficiency contests. Further activities include a biennial engineering show.

Originally founded to provide inexpensive, wholesome meals for out-of-town students, the ST. FRANCIS CLUB has developed into an outstanding organization providing its members with a fraternal atmosphere in their own house located off campus. This organization has become famous through its annual tug-o-war between the Irish and the Germans. In addition they sponsor the Varsity Ball and the picnic for the St. Francis Home for Boys.

SECRETARIAL SCIENCE CLUB

Professional people from the business world are often guests at the meetings of the SECRETARIAL SCIENCE CLUB. They give advice and information regarding entrance into the field of Secretarial Science. This aids the club in attaining its goal of acquainting members with the requirements of the business world. A carefully planned social program enables the members to acquire personality traits desirable for their careers. The organization is contemplating presenting an award to the sophomore graduating in Secretarial Science with the highest scholastic average.

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT

In an effort to foster co-operation between business executives and business students, the SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT was founded at the University of Detroit in 1949. Since that time, this purpose has been carried out through projects such as the sponsoring of guest speakers. The members hold an annual dinner dance, Christmas party and several get-togethers throughout the year. Academically, they participate in the Management Seminar and award the S.A.M. key to the outstanding student in Industrial Management. During the past year they have received the Membership Growth Award.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

Formerly known as the Community Relations Club, the SOCIOLOGY CLUB is concerned with academic rather than social concentration. It has a three-fold purpose: to make field visits to different social agencies for the sake of getting first-hand knowledge of the type of social work practiced in that particular agency, to attend the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine lecture series on youth and evaluate these in group discussions, and to work with the Volunteer Bureau at the University of Detroit.

S. A. M. E.

SECTION A

The distinctive fouregiere and bar ribbon of scarlet, black, and white are the symbols of the candidate's successful completion of his probation for membership in the SOCIETY OF AMERICAN MILITARY ENGINEERS. As the University's only recognized military engineering group, the Society endeavors to give its members an extensive education in the many phases of engineering, military or otherwise, by not only securing professional men to address the student Post but also by sponsoring a number of field trips to locations of special engineering interest. Since its founding in 1951 the Society has annually presented the Society Medal award to the most active member. Highlighting its social calendar are the semi-annual dinner dances held in the spring and fall.

SOCIETY OF AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

SECTIONS A AND B

A professional society serving as the center of technical thought and discussion for engineers in the automotive and allied industries, and at the same time fostering the advancement of the profession of engineering in general is the SOCIETY OF AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS. They promote tours of Detroit industry and produce engineering T.V. programs. At their open meetings they feature films and speakers from industry. This society also gives an annual award at the Slide Rule Dinner, and is open to any student interested in automotive development and engineering.

Willertz.

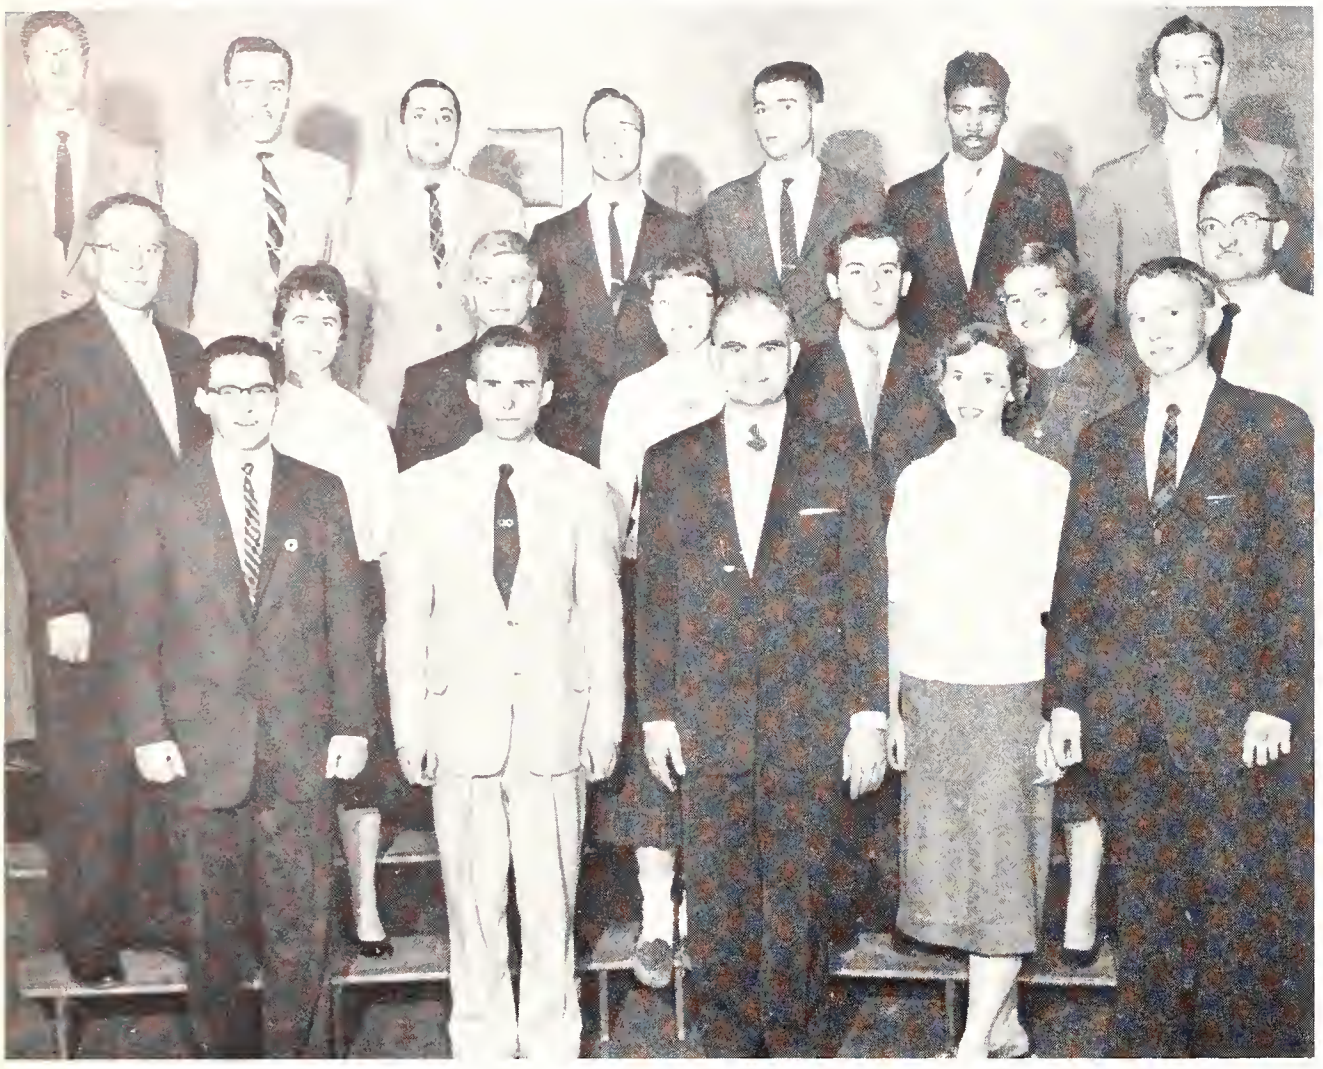
The SODALITY offers its members a life-time dedication and a permanent way of life that includes both the spiritual and apostolic sides to help them achieve its goals of self-sanctification, sanctification of others, and defense and spread of the Church. The many activities of this group include a Training School of Sodality Action and a dance for freshmen during Orientation Week. During the Christmas season they promote the sale of Christmas cards and they also set up a crib. They operate the ticket booths at Carnival and end their busy year with the Rhapsody in Blue. One of the oldest organizations on campus, the Sodality was established at the University of Detroit in 1879.

SPEECH CLUB



ROW 1: P. Monahan, Vice-Pres., J. Miller, Pres., L. W. Rudick, Debate Moderator, K. Maskery, Sec.-Treas., T. Stock; ROW 2: H. C. Schneidewind, Oral Interpretation Moderator, R. Bush, J. Grubba, M. Molloy, L. Kitchen, K. Lyon, T. H. Usher, Oratory & Discussion Moderator; ROW 3: L. Lubaway, J. Cubitt, J. Skowronski, F. Walsh, J. Baumgardner, B. Williams, L. Lewandowski.

The University of Detroit Forensic Society, more usually known as the SPEECH CLUB, promotes all speech activities both on and off campus. It so capably represents the University in inter-collegiate speech competition that it has, during this past year, added to its collection of awards the Flint Junior College Trophy, the Pi Kappa Delta Debate Award, and the Sweepstakes Trophy. The club has also received the Alpha Sigma Nu Award for 1957-58 and the Traffic Safety Oratory Award. Among its many activities on campus, the Forensic Society sponsors the annual Skinner Debate, the winner of which is awarded the Skinner Debate Medal, as the most skilled undergraduate participant. Monthly, the club presents programs to the student body, consisting of exhibitions of various speech activities.

STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD ON ATHLETICS

Members of the STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD ON ATHLETICS are selected by the legislative councils they represent. The primary work of the board is to aid and foster the athletic program. It acts as liaison between the administrative program for athletics and the student governing councils. The board itself is not a legislative body but a public relations and promotional medium. It initiated "Red and White Day", when students showed their spirit by wearing school colors.

The University of Detroit Veterans Club, now referred to as the XGI CLUB, was founded on campus in 1953. It originally included only veterans of the Korean war but has since been enlarged to include all veterans. Its main purpose is to bring the veterans into closer fellowship both on campus and at social functions off campus. The XGI float participates in the Homecoming parade and the group yearly sponsors a booth at the Spring Carnival. Members are active in intramural sports, and generally support all University functions. The highlight of the XGI social calendar is the very popular Guidon Cotillion. During the winter season the club holds various ski parties for its members as well as mixers with other campus groups.

ENGINEERING STUDENT COUNCIL

SECTIONS A AND B

The ENGINEERING STUDENT COUNCIL was founded at the University of Detroit in 1949 to develop a professional attitude among students and to facilitate contact between the faculty and students of the College of Engineering. It serves as a representative panel for the airing of student problems to the proper authorities. It is also a co-ordinating body of the professional and honorary organizations of the Engineering College. This group sponsors the "20th Century Living" television series and the annual Slide Rule Dinner at which the outstanding senior engineering student is presented with the Engineer of the Year award.

ROW 1: B. Kroener, T. Steinbauer, Vice-Pres., C. Raths, Jr., Pres.; ROW 2: W. Schild, J. Heilman; ROW 3: J. VonBenken, T. McCann, M. Kellerman.

One hundred and eighty freshmen and sophomore out-of-town students have as their governing body the HOLDEN HALL DORM COUNCIL. The Council plans activities, such as occasional mixers and parties, makes suggestions for improvement to the dorm director, and leads work on Homecoming activities. The Hall boasts floats of distinctive quality. The dorm sponsors a Homecoming queen candidate and an ugly man candidate. They also have a carnival booth.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL is an organization consisting of fraternity presidents and a representative from each fraternity. Its purpose is to further the aims of fraternal life, provide aid to member fraternities, and to promote relations between fraternities, the University, and the community. This Council is becoming very active. In the past year it has co-sponsored Greek Weekend,, Greek Night, Greek Seminar and the Greek Ball. It has been instrumental in changing voting rules for Homecoming Queen, choosing themes and awarding prizes for Homecoming floats, and establishing new social rules.

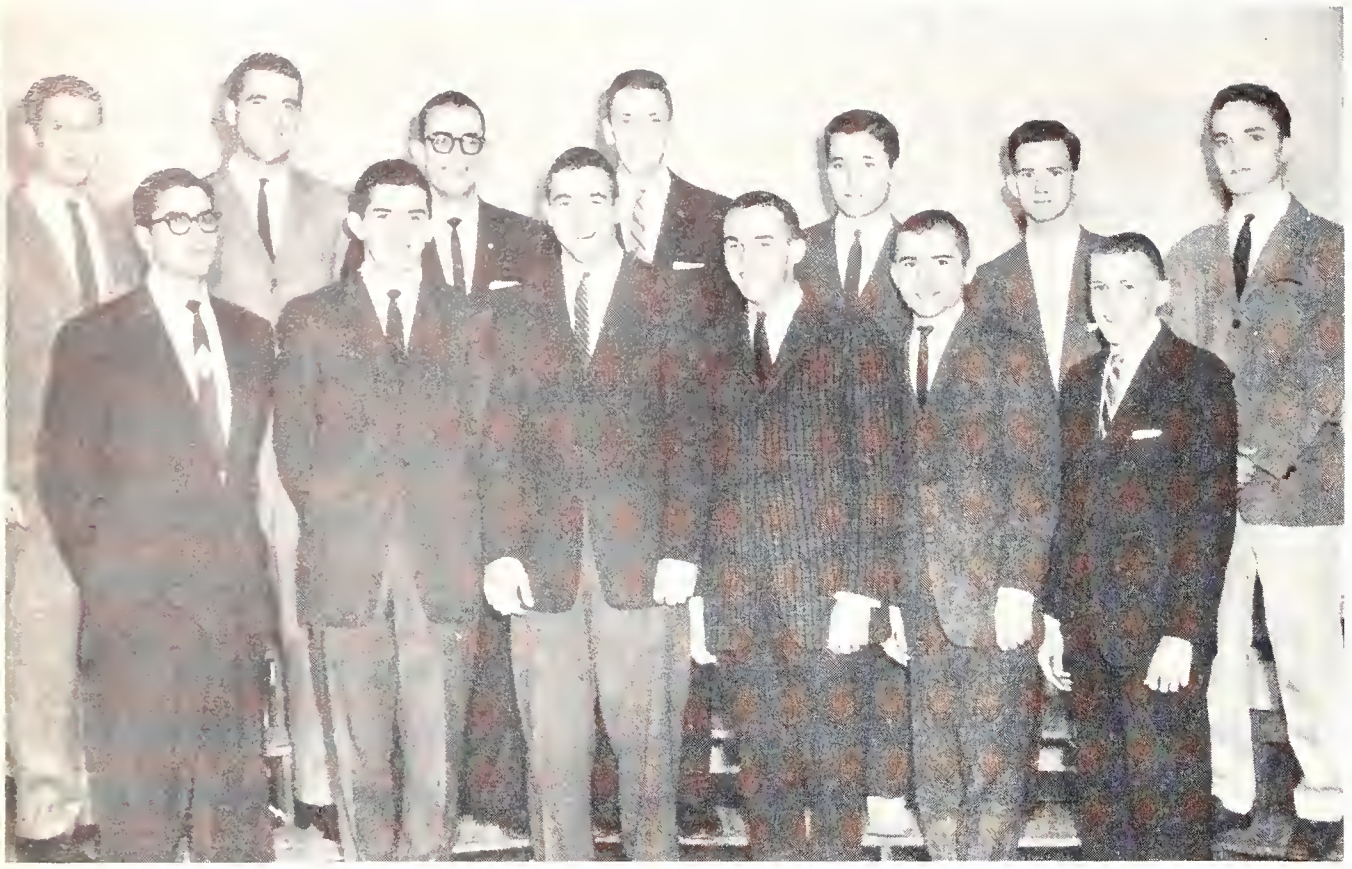
MEN'S UNION



ROW 1: P. Paule, Moderator, D. Unti, Sec., T. Dinan, Pres., P. Oliver, Vice-Pres., R. Campbell, Treas., F. Atzberger, Student Manager; ROW 2: M. Scallen, J. Reno, Activities Chrmn., J. Haley, R. Hull, R. Jackson, D. Tupper, T. Dietz.

The MEN'S UNION is constituted in order to promote unity among the men of the University of Detroit and provide social functions and facilities for their recreation and well-being. The governing body, the Student Union Board of Governors, is partly elected and partly appointed. In addition to operating the Games Room in the Union, the board has many other projects. They sponsor the Booster Club, Tournaments and the Student Trip. They also present After-Game Dances and the Sunday night movie program.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL is composed of representatives from each sorority on campus. Their purpose is to co-ordinate the activities of the sororities and to improve relations between them. This year they also co-ordinated rushing and pledging among the sororities. They co-sponsor Greek Weekend with the IFC. They also sponsor the Inter-Sorority Tea and the Goodfellow Contest. Annually they award the Pan-Hellenic Cup to the sorority with the highest overall average.

ROW 1: P. Blossom, Treas., J. Baysinger, Pres., J. Tercheck, Sec.; ROW 2: T. Yates, R. Sheridan, P. Felter, C. A. Herr; ROW 3: P. Hurst, M. Snyder, K. Richard, M. B. Foster, J. Woodbeck.

RENO HALL COUNCIL

The RENO HALL COUNCIL, elected by 312 junior and senior dorm residents, is the governing body of the dorm with the duty of directing the co-curricular activities of the dorm. Reno Hall offers strong competition in intramural activities. The Hall sponsors a Homecoming queen candidate and enters a float in the float contest. This year Reno won an award for best organization float. The dorm is also aptly represented at the Carnival.

ROW 1: J. Drinan, Treas., P. Danner, Sec., D. Gannon, Pres., H. Dowd, Vice-Pres., C. Buckemyer, Athletic Dir.; ROW 2: L. Lewis, A. Sterlitz, A. Burke, D. Sheibley, R. Bacigalupi, T. Rau.

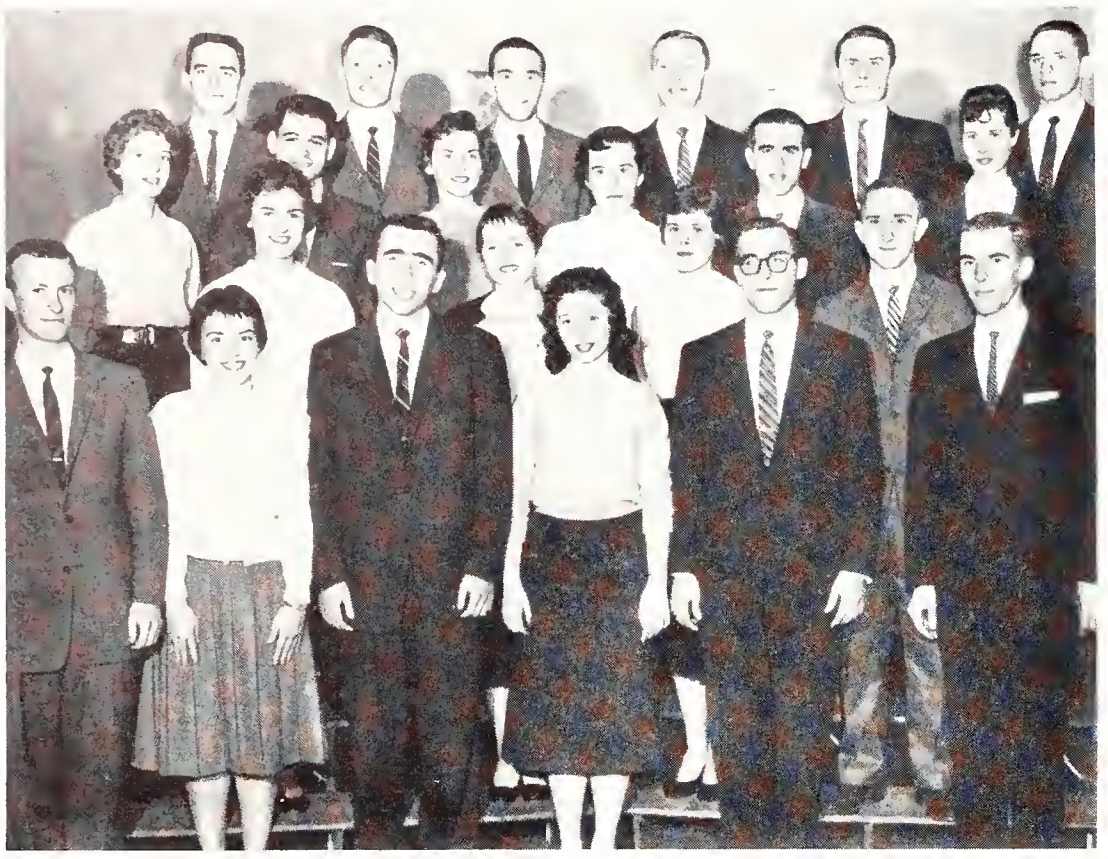
STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

The STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION is the student governing body at the University of Detroit Law School. The board of governors of the Association promotes student activities, particularly the closed retreat for students, Freshman orientation, and the pre-legal clinic. It sponsors student convocations and is responsible for the social calendar and student directory. Socially, the board sponsors Thanksgiving and spring parties as well as the annual Senior banquet. It awards a trophy in the interfraternity moot court trial competition.

STUDENT COUNCIL



ROW 1: J. Yott, Moderator, B. Schumacher, Corr. Sec., M. McCann, Pres., K. Dwyer, Rec. Sec., L. Vaillancourt, Vice Pres., J. Bowker, Treas.; ROW 2: J. Drogosch, R. MacPherson, H. Lawrence, L. Klatt; ROW 3: B. Raczkowski, T. Locricchio, P. Hurst, K. Schloff, P. Basso, J. Kiefer; ROW 4: R. Campau, R. Baldwin, P. Oliver, R. Shearer, J. Clement, R. Bayma.

The highest body of student self-government is the Student Council. It supervises all campus-wide student activities which concern the welfare and rights of the student body. Fifteen members are elected in the spring by a campus-wide vote and the other ten are appointed later on in the year. The Council runs the various campus elections, including those which bring the Spring Carnival into existence. It also forms the following committees: Freshmen Orientation Committee, Homecoming Committee, Junior Prom Committee, and the Senior Class Committee.

WOMEN STUDENTS' LEAGUE

All coeds on campus are members of the Women Students' League. It operates for the academic and social interests of the University. The League Board, elected in the spring by the entire coed body, is the governing body of the League. Among its many projects are the Freshmen Welcome Tea, the Sadie Shuffle, the Campus Christmas Party, the Mother-Daughter Tea and the Dad-Daughter Date. For the past two years the League has been sponsoring the polio shot campaign. The "Mother of the Year" award is presented to an outstanding woman.

ROW 1: R. Greiner, Corr. Sec., J. Martz, Rec. Sec., J. Byrne, Pres., K. Richard, Vice-Pres., C. Hibbeln, Treas.; ROW 2: M. Bowen, D. Crowley, E. Czarnota, D. Schobloher; ROW 3: E. Shannon, S. Hartzell, M. Hause, C. Studinger, A. Kleinert.

The black-robed line files in sectionally along the path to Graduation Hall. Their gowns mean graduation. The tassels on their caps distinguish them into their proper fields. Straight, singular, and proud they march, individuals who have proved themselves through four years of intensive training. Fellow students once more for the last time they go to meet the president of the university, clasp his hand, and emerge with the coveted scroll.

Something old . . .

. . . such as this recreation of one of radio's earlier programs, "The Town Crier," with veteran WWJ radioman Al Weeks, on "U. of D. Showtime," is the sort of thing University of Detroit broadcasters, with the help of Michigan commercial radio stations, present to a total audience of a million listeners weekly. On the other hand . . .

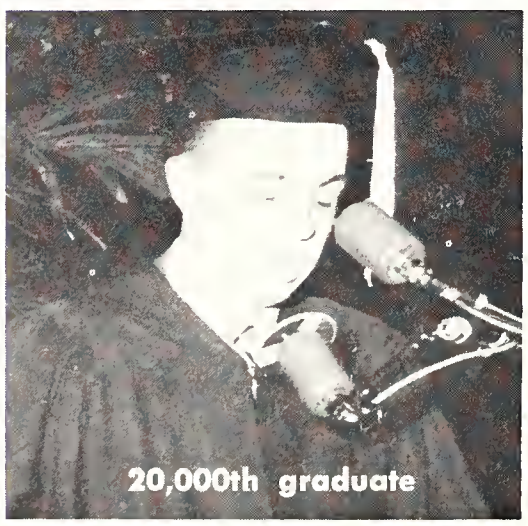
Something new

. . . is in "Spotlight" produced by Larry Foy, covers new things, new ideas, new people, on campus.

Foy is executive producer of the student Broadcasting Guild.

Radio moves campus, students across the state of Michigan

TEN PROGRAMS originate on campus each week. One or more are broadcast on 13 commercial radio stations in nine Michigan cities: Drama, comedy, music and variety in "Showtime," "Concert Hall," "Globe Theatre" and "Radio Theatre" . . . discussion and current topics on "Titan Topics," "Spotlight," "Town Hall" and "News Report," . . . religion on "Church Today" and "India Today." Two score students write, produce, direct and appear in these U. of D. broadcasts.



WJR, WXYZ, WJBK, WJLB, WDOG, WJPD, WMAB, WHGR, WCEN, WCBY, WMTE, WMDN, WCAR

Today's graduates are entering an exciting new era where they will live better electrically in every way . . . at home, at work, or at play.

For example, if you choose marriage, you can enjoy an all-electric home. Included will be electric heat, built-in electric range and refrigerator and a host of time-saving, economical electric appliances. They will be the ultimate in modern living comfort and convenience.

Or, if you go into business, efficient electrically operated machines will assist you in getting the job done swiftly and easily—again an illustration of the versatility and dependability of electricity.

Or, if you go on to college, perhaps you will become one of the scientists or technicians who help further mold the all-electric world of the future.

No matter which path you may choose, electricity will be there to lighten your load, brighten your way . . . help you live better . . . electrically.

DOCTOR LAWYER PHOTOGRAPHER *

When you think about it, the family photographer falls somewhere in the family doctor-lawyer classification. The photographer, like the doctor and lawyer, is called upon when major events in your life occur. With a fine studio portrait you can relive in later years the happiness of the engagement, the wedding, the arrival of children. A photograph is part of forever, and our studio takes this responsibility seriously.

* We are proud to be the photographer chosen to photograph your graduating class. We hope that this is the beginning of a lifelong relationship.

$1,550,000 Building Project

New Men's Dorm by 1960

THE BUILDING will house 440 students in two-man rooms, plus four prefects in study-bedroom suites. It will be located on the South edge of the McNichols Road Campus in the present housing area. Basic construction material is reinforced concrete, including concrete "eyebrow" window overhangs on student rooms. Harley, Ellington and Day, Inc. are the architects. "The building," explains Robert L. Blakeslee, chairman of the U. of D. department of architecture, and U. of D.'s architectural representative, "is contemporary in design with features in keeping with the present housing section of the campus."

Rectangular in shape, the dormitory includes bedrooms on all levels with special service and recreation rooms on the first two. The eight-level building, the tallest on campus (76 feet above grade) except for the Memorial Tower (188 feet), will be constructed of buff colored brick and mankata stone, with extensive use of opaque architectural glass and transparent glass.

Tower Cover in Mosaic Form

Special work entailed the cover design for this yearbook. Peter Sloan, former art editor of Tower 1956 to 1957, is responsible for its creation. Mr. Sloan now lives in Pasadena, California, and is now attending Los Angeles State College. He constructed an actual size mosaic out of Venetian tile from which he made a photographic reproduction. From this reproduction, the Durand Manufacturing Company did the finished art work and from this produced our four-color, silk-screened cover.

And in Conclusion. . .

We wish to thank all those who, while not formally on the TOWER staff, helped so generously in this year's book. Thanks to those wonderful people at the Detroit News, Times, and Free Press for their aid in securing many of the photographs in our sports section; to Bill Rabe, of PIO, for his miraculous ability to produce pictures on any subject within ten minutes; to Peter Sloan, for his ingenuity in designing and mosaically constructing our cover; to Fr. James T. Magmer, S.J., for his able guidance throughout the year; to Mrs. M. Suprunowicz, for her fine draftsmanship on the mosaic art work within the book; and to Mack Suprunowicz, our Litho-Art representative, for his patient endurance, above and beyond the call of duty, in coping with the teeming chaos which is the TOWER office.

Jane Baysinger
